Moves His Nomination

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 6.—Harry S. New and James E. Watson were nominated by acclamation for the long and short term United States senatorship respectively this afternoon in the Republican state convention.

Opposition to the election of a former Progressive as delegate-at-large to the national convention from Indiana melted into thin air this afternoon and E. C. Toner of Anderson was by acclamation made one of the big four.

The other three are Fred A. Simms, James E. Hemenway and Will H. Hays.

Following closely the endorsement of Charles Warren Fairbanks as Indiana's choice for the candidate for president the election of Toner as delegate indicated that the Fairbanks men relied on the instructions of the convention to bind Toner to Fairbanks and ignored the fear expressed by some that he might stampede to the Colonel.

Winfield T. Durbin of Anderson who issued a statement early today that he intended to try for election as delegate-at-large, withdrew from the race just before the convention assembled, leaving the way clear for Toner.

James P. Goodrich, the primary nominee for governor, was assured by Warren T. McCray and Quincey A. Myers, his opponents at the primary, that they were glad to make way for him.

Edward Jackson was nominated by acclamation for secretary of state.

New and Watson addressed the convention.

"The Democratic party can't handle a crisis," said Watson. "It makes 'em. It is just as essential for the G. O. P. to follow a Democratic administration as for an ambulance to follow an army on the field. The Democrats don't know the difference between diplomacy and duplicity or progress and motion."

The first fight developed over the nomination for a candidate for lieutenant governor that the convention make the nomination of Edward Bush of Salem unanimous and this was done.

Otto L. Klaus of Evansville was this afternoon nominated as the candidate for auditor of state on the first ballot. The vote was Klaus, 622 1-6; C. E. Makepeace of Anderson; 213 2-3 and I. Newt Brown of Franklin 332 1-6.

Limit Tax Rate Is Keynote of The Platform

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—Indiana Republicans candidates for state offices will go before the people in the next campaign asking election on a platform declaring for the budget system for expenditure of state funds, a business-like administration, a limit to the tax rate, abolishment of unnecessary state departments and simplification of the primary law.

The report of the resolutions committee containing these planks and others was adopted today by the Republican state convention.

National policies espoused included a demand for an early enactment of "a genuine protective tariff," a privately owned and operated merchant marine; "such preparedness as is necessary upon land and sea to protect American citizens and property at home and abroad;" and a condemnation of President Wilson's Mexican policy.

The platform does not specifically condemn the administration's international policy but under the heading, "American neutrality," demands that the rights of American citizens be upheld.

The platform does not mention woman suffrage, state-wide prohibition or a constitutional convention.

The constitutional amendment fixing a limit to the tax rate and fixing the legislature's power to effect taxation reforms are favored.

Other plans are:

Amending the constitution to authorize the governor to veto any item in any appropriation bill and prohibiting the increase of any official's salary for the term of the office whether elective or appointive.

Reaffirming friendship for labor and condemning child labor.

Richard N. Elliott of Connersville and Thomas Millikan of Newcastle were elected delegates to the national convention. They were endorsed by the district committee at its reorganization meeting. Alternate delegates selected were Frank Taylor of Richmond and Elden A. Ropp of Greenfield.

John Payne of Connersville was selected vice-president from this district and Walter S. Montgomery of Shelbyville assistant secretary. Will Hough of Greenfield was chosen district elector and G. I. Bryson of Laurel contingent elector.

METAL ON SUSSEX PART OF TORPEDO

This is Finding of American Attaches
Appointed to Investigate
Circumstances.

FIRST POSITIVE INFORMATION

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 6.—The American attaches who were appointed to examine the pieces of metal found on the Channel packet Sussex have reported their investigation shows the pieces were parts of a German torpedo. The findings of the attaches were based on a comparison of metal pieces with the structure of captured German torpedoes in Paris.

The report to the state department is the first positive information this government has received indicating it was a German submarine that attacked the Sussex.

The report made today is said to be a preliminary one.

Shortly after the report became known, Secretary Lansing asked for an appointment with President Wilson. He was expected to go to the white house some time before noon.

LUMBER OFFICE LOOTED

Dunreith, April 6.—The Greer-Wilkinson Lumber Company's office here was looted by some person who entered through a side window and broke open two tool chests. The safe was easily opened, as the outside door was never kept locked, but the cash box was empty.

UNNECESSARY TO TAKE VILLA

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Texas, April 6.—General Garcia, chief Carranza official along the border, today declared himself in favor of the United States withdrawing from Mexico. There is no doubt here that Garcia's views reflect those of the Carranza government. Garcia stated that further advance into Mexico might precipitate trouble.

"The American expedition has achieved its purpose of breaking Villa's strength and scattering his followers," Garcia said. "It is not necessary to capture Villa to make the expedition a success. It would be useless to have thousands of men to pursue him as it may take an indefinite time to capture him. Villa can be captured more easily by offering a big reward. There is no reason in my opinion for the American army pursuing the campaign further."

ARLINGTON CLASS VISITS RUSHVILLE

Seniors Inspect Several Manufacturing Institutions, Including City Plant.

COMMENCEMENT ON APRIL 26

The senior class of the Arlington high school made an inspection trip to Rushville yesterday afternoon, visiting several manufacturing plants, the electric light and water plant and the Daily Republican. The class is especially interested in electricity. The tour of the city was arranged by Harry Mahin, principal of the Arlington school. The class has studied the things they saw, but believed the information they learned from actual views to be valuable.

This year's class is composed of nine members. The annual commencement exercises will be conducted April 26. Ray C. Ballard of Lewisville will deliver the class address.

The class is composed of five girls and four boys as follows: the Misses Della Hufford, Emma Posey, May Gardner, Mary Conoway, and Effie Offutt and Omar McKibben, Tom Saunders, Arthur Conoway, and Everard Johnson.

TO ADD TO WORK OF POSTMASTER

Bill in Congress Would Place G. P.
Hunt in Charge of Postoffice of Rush County

WILL MEET WITH OPPOSITION

Anticipated That Communities Outside County Seats Would Object to Such a Measure

Should a certain piece of legislation now pending in Congress and receiving ardent backing from the postmaster-general, be enacted into law, G. P. Hunt would become postmaster for Rush county, instead of being postmaster for Rushville alone and all postoffices in the county outside of Rushville would become substations and operate under the direction of the Rushville office. The same sort of situation would be created in every other county throughout the country.

That such legislation is even contemplated will be news to most persons, as it has attracted virtually no attention. Under its sweeping provisions, 50,000 postmasterships throughout the country would be abolished. The offices themselves would not be wiped out, but after the postmasterships have been abolished the offices would be open to the appointment of superintendents. Postmaster General Burleson is openly and earnestly backing the legislation and doing all he can to procure its passage.

The legislation proposes a reorganization of the postal savings system. The House committee on postoffice and post roads refused to recommend it and the bill as it passed the House did not contain the provision. It was incorporated in the Senate bill, however, and is now one of the amendments in dispute between the House and Senate conferees. The provision, which would go far toward proving the established postal service, reads as follows:

"Hereafter the postmaster-general may establish under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe one or more branch offices, non-accounting, for the transactions of any postoffice business which may be required for the convenience of the public." In a statement before the House committee explaining the operation of the proposed legislation first assistant postmaster-general, Daniel C. Roper, said:

"By making the county the unit and subsidiary to the main office situated at the county seat, the number of accounting offices would be reduced from 56,000 to 3,000. The county postmaster would be assisted by a clerk in charge, under his immediate supervision, at each subsidiary office."

Mr. Roper clearly stated in hearings before the committee that the legislation would abolish the present postmasters. Representative Madden of Illinois, was one of the members who asked questions and one of his questions was:

"This would put the postmaster-general in a position to appoint one postmaster in each county, would it not, and would put all other postoffices in the county as non-accounting offices, subject to his jurisdiction?"

Mr. Roper said that was so.

It is said that more than fifty members of the House have been in conference with the postmaster-general during the past week in regard to this item. The conferees have been at the request of the postmaster-general, who is insistent on the approval of the item.

There was a similar proposition once before when the postoffice department

PEARCE DIVORCE SUIT DISMISSED

MOORE CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Fails to Pay Stipulated Allowance to His Wife Who Divorced
Him—Two Other Dismissals

The divorce suit of W. M. Pearce against Mrs. Mary Josephine Pearce was dismissed this morning and the costs paid. The action came as a surprise to court officials as it had been expected to be a hard fought case. Mr. Pearce first dismissed his complaint and then Mrs. Pearce dismissed the cross-complaint. It is understood that they have adjusted their domestic troubles.

William (Sorrell) Moore has been cited for contempt of court for failure to pay the stipulated allowance to his divorced wife, Emma Moore. He is to appear before Judge Sparks on April 8 and show cause why he should not be punished. Moore is said to be $125 behind with his payments of support money. The divorce was granted this term of court.

The estate of the late Benjamin Jackson is now well on the way to final settlement. The will was broken only Monday and today the court granted a partition and appointed L. P. Newby of Knightstown commissioner to make the sale. His bond was placed at $20,000. This suit was brought by Ida Dobbins et al, who were the parties to the will contest suit. By an agreement Mrs. Dobbins was allowed $1,600 on her claim filed against the estate amounting to $10,741.

The petition of Mrs. Geneva Gordon to mortgage real estate to pay debts was dismissed and the costs paid. The petition named Charles Bundy and others as defendants.

The case of Enoch H. Dobbins et al, against William Sharer on an account demanding $100 was dismissed and the costs paid.

IS HELD IN JAIL FOR TAKING $175.75

Ernest Eckstrom, Baldwin Piano
Co., Agent, is Arrested on Affidavit Filed Here

HE HAS CHANCE TO PAY DEBT

Ernest Eckstrom, local representative of the Baldwin piano company, was arrested yesterday on an affidavit charging grand larceny. He is alleged to have taken $177.75 of the company's money. The affidavit was filed by Oliver T. Hereth of Indianapolis. Eckstrom, it is understood, admitted that he appropriated the money and asked for a chance to pay it back. He was arraigned before Squire Kratzner and his bond fixed at $300.

Eckstrom was unable to secure this amount and went to jail. He had not been given a hearing at a late hour today. The piano company is not anxious to prosecute if they can secure the money, it was stated. Eckstrom is said to have been in hard circumstances and used the money to pay debts.

VERDUN PEOPLE WOULD NOT LEAVE

Officers Had to Drive Noncombatants Out of the Town.

FLED IN SNOW AMID SHELLS

Principal Officer of the City Describes How First Few Nights of Bombardment Were Spent in Cellars—Old Men and Women Found Hiding Under Their Homes, Unwilling to Leave.

Jean Grillon, subprefect of Verdun, has told this story of the battle that raged around that French city:

"In mid-February the general commanding the army in the region of Verdun summoned me to his headquarters and said:

"An immense attack is going to be made in this region. Evacuate all the villages north of Verdun; we must prepare the battlefield."

"Preparing the battlefield means emptying villages and giving the populations new shelter and preparing quarters for the troops. Farm and homesteads were vacated and cattle taken away. Food stocks were remitted to the military commissariat.

"Then came the order to evacuate Verdun.

"Verdun is going to be a nest of bombs," the governor told me. I closed the schools and had all the sick removed to improvised hospitals several miles in the rear. Nevertheless, most of the citizens refused to quit the town. Arguments being useless, I had to forcibly expel them. Only those who have lived there can realize the sturdy Lorrainers' attachment for their homes.

The First Big Shell.

"Only 1,000 inhabitants remained when the first fifteen inch shell exploded in the city. I immediately sent out a bugler to sound the alarm, and every one went to the cellars. The best were those of the subprefecture, where for months past I had fortified shelters and stored lamps, medical dressings and foodstuffs. Here 400 persons took refuge.

"The first gust of shells lasted eight hours. During a lull I visited other cellars and discovered that there had been only one death, that of a woman who had imprudently rushed to the first floor of her home to save some papers and had been killed near a window.

"I ordered the evacuation to continue. We were unable to use our railroad depot, which was under fire. The people walked west or rode in vehicles of all kinds.

"Next day the shelling continued intermittently, several buildings collapsing. Happily, no person was wounded, the cellars of those remaining in Verdun being unaffected. Our greatest difficulty was to feed the people, but we managed to do it.

All Citizens Sent Away.

"Two nights later more than 100 fifteen inch shells fell in the city. At midnight I received a telephone message. 'Rush out all the remaining civilians immediately and take all the municipal papers.'

"The police hurried about in the shell damaged streets, turning out the refractory people and shepherding them in places of safety beyond the town. Then a shell cut our telephone wires. The Germans next fired 'star shells,' which threw a brilliant light over the smoking ruins as we mobilized the civilians.

"What we found beneath some of these shattered houses was amazing. Sick and infirm old people and children wept bitterly as we hoisted them from the cellars into automobiles which rushed them to an outlying station. There, in default of proper train accommodations, we packed them in cattle cars and on open trucks.

"It was bitterly cold, and snow fell heavily. Several children died from exposure during the journey to Barle-Duc. A number of persons had wheeled their children to the station in perambulators, but these took up too much space, so we had to leave them behind.

"Soon after the soldiers of a regiment marching by on their way to the firing line were amazed to see scores of these empty perambulators being blown about by the gusty winds."

2,000 SHIPS IDLE OR SUNK.

Total Tonnage of Those Lost or Interned Nearly 4,000,000.

The European war has taken from the seas more than 2,000 merchant vessels of nearly 4,000,000 tonnage, according to figures published by the department of commerce. Germany, with 600 vessels sunk, captured or detained, heads the list of losers.

Two hundred and twenty-five of the 500 British vessels lost were sunk by submarines. Great Britain's allies lost 167 ships. Austria lost 80 and Turkey 124. The total of neutral losses is put at 736, but most of these were released after being reported captured.

Ninety-two neutral vessels have been submerged and ninety-four sunk by mines. Twenty-three have been damaged by submarines and mines.

Prisoners of war in the concentration camp in Merseburg, Germany, have collected 500 marks ($225) for the erection of a monument to their comrades who have fallen in battle.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO AID IN WAR ON ALL MOSQUITOES

Million Insects In Jars Will Be Used to Educate Kiddies.

An army of more than a million mosquitoes will be raised by the New York health department as soon as possible and distributed, safely packed in glass jars, among the public schools of the city.

The plan is an important part of a campaign of education and extermination just beginning—education for the children, extermination for the mosquitoes.

The interstate mosquito commission held a busy meeting at the health department rooms. Representatives were there from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, with special delegates from Westchester and Long Island. Health Commissioner Emerson of New York announced the local campaign against mosquitoes will be carried on more vigorously than ever this year. All owners of buildings in which water is allowed to lodge in gutters, drains or elsewhere will be prosecuted criminally. It is clearly established mosquitoes breed in such patches of water.

"Every pupil in the public schools will be asked to study the structure, needs and habits of mosquitoes," said Dr. Baldwin, "so as to be able to recognize the dangerous kind at a glance and join in the war of extermination. If the public school children do all they can to help exterminate mosquitoes they will help to ward off a great deal of sickness and suffering. There are not so many malarial mosquitoes in New York, and a vigorous campaign will prevent the breeding of the pests in this city."

SAVED BY HIS PARACHUTE.

French Observer Dropped When Captive Balloon Was Cut Adrift.

The parachute, with which all observers in French captive balloons have now been provided, had a practical test recently near Clermont, in the Argonne region. German shells had cut the ropes holding one of the largest of these balloons, or "sausages," as they are called by the soldiers, on account of their shape.

It immediately rose to a height of 11,000 feet and drifted toward the German lines. The watchers below saw the observer get out of the basket and launch himself into space. After a sharp drop the parachute opened, and the observer reached the ground in safety, about 300 yards within the French line. The first sharp drop of about 150 feet, he said, was distinctly disagreeable, but after the parachute spread the descent was pleasant and was so gentle that during the twenty minutes which it lasted he had leisure to continue to take observations of the movements in progress beyond the German lines.

Woman Finds Missing $20 Under His Pillow and Sees Him Sent to Jail.

For the sake of honesty, Mrs. Myrtle Lee, nineteen years old, of Cleveland, sacrificed the freedom of her father, Peter McKinney.

Mrs. Anna Colfer, a neighbor, missed a purse containing $20. Mrs. Lee found the purse under her father's pillow when she made his bed.

"I feel it my duty to tell the truth," sobbed Mrs. Lee in court, "but please don't send my father to jail."

McKinney was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

So the stars and stripes may blow.

Barnabus C. Hobbs (con)

(1815-1892)

In 1851 Barnabus C. Hobbs was called to the presidency of Bloomingdale Academy, where he served for sixteen years. His reputation was such that in 1866 the trustees of Earlham College (the outgrowth of the Friends' boarding school) elected him as their first president. The same year Governor Morton named him as one of the trustees for the new state normal school. In 1868 Professor Hobbs was elected superintendent of public instruction. He made an appeal for the education of the negroes. Owing to the bitter factionalism in state politics during this period many of his constructive measures failed of adoption. When the national committee was organized in 1869 to inaugurate a scheme toward federal aid to education, Barnabus C. Hobbs was selected as chairman. The latter years of his life were devoted largely to furthering the cause of international arbitration and toward the education of the Indians. He died in Bloomingdale, June 22, 1893.

FAIL TO ENDORSE TOM T. TAGGART

Democratic County Chairmen of District Neglect to Adopt Resolutions Presented

OLDER HEADS AGAINST IT

Richmond newspapers yesterday published a story that resolutions pledging the Democrats of the sixth district to support Thomas Taggart as a candidate for the short term in the United States senate were presented to the meeting of the district committee in Connersville Tuesday but that they were not adopted. The Richmond Item says that the older heads of the party in the district counseled that it would be "bad policies" and would not give the committee a chance to endorse Governor Ralston in case he becomes a candidate in place of Taggart, who has already said he will not run.
Edwin Corr of Bloomington, former assistant attorney general, was at the meeting in the interest of his candidacy for the supreme court judgeship made vacant by Judge Shea's resignation to become ambassador to Chile.
William A. Yarling was indorsed for lieutenant governor. Delegates from the Sixth district to the national convention were not mentioned and the district organization will make no attempt to dictate their selection, leaving this to the state convention to determine.

No one was found who thought fruit had been damaged.

Federal Inspection.

J. Chas. Linthicum, representative in congress from the fourth Maryland district, has introduced a resolution in the house calling for the federal inspection of dairies. If dairy inspection is worthy the effort of many states and many municipalities, it must be worthy the larger effort of the federal government; especially in view of the statement in the preamble of Linthicum's resolution that the United States bureau of animal industry has reported ninety-four and five-tenths per cent of the creameries of the country are insanitary to a greater or less degree.

Dairy products are probably the most widely used of any human food and are more easily infected with disease germs than the average food. There is a growing sense of alarm in many quarters among consumers because of the dangers that lie hidden in milk and its by-products.

When taxes are paid upon imports the foreign producer takes that much less for his product and the importer pays the tax. It really comes out of the pocket of the foreigner, except in the case of commodities not produced in this country. Democrats claimed, falsely, that the American consumer pays the tax, but the failure to reduce the cost of living, when the tariff was taken off, disproves this theory. In the case of a stamp tax such as we are now paying, we know absolutely that the American pays it. People who don't like stamp taxes can have the import duties restored, if they vote for candidates who believe in that form of revenue.

One apologist for President Wilson expresses the opinion that he will be benefited rather than injured by the failure of some of the measures he is so deeply interested in getting through Congress. What a strange estimate of the intelligence of the American voter! The President is to be commended because he fails in his efforts to pass unwise laws! More likely the commendation will go to the men who help defeat the measures, for that is where the approval should be given.

Representative Fitzgerald, Democratic Chairman of the House Committee on appropriations condemned the last Congress for extravagance and is condemning this for slowness and general inefficiency. Senator Newlands, also a Democrat, attributed the industrial depression of 1913-14 to the unwise legislation of the Democratic party. Several Democratic Congressmen, apparently entertaining similar views, have announced that they will not be candidates for re-election. When Democratic leaders condemn the party how can the average voter be expected to support it?

President Wilson's assertion that the Republican party has not had a new idea in thirty years makes interesting reading in view of the ideas he has thrown away in the last few months in order to take up Republican ideas in their stead.

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., April 6.—A lean figure in khaki stalked into the lobby of Sheldon hotel tonight and sank into a seat. He wore the double bars of a captain. He had the look of a boy who has been denied something he has put his soul into longing for.

The captain's air attracted the attention of a newspaperman. The latter bore down on the officer and greeted him with:

"You didn't go in, captain?" The officer's features twisted as though from actual physical pain.

"I-I'm not going," he said slowly. He tried to smile, but it was a sorry attempt. "I'm on the sick list," he hurried on, releasing his pent-up protest against the break of luck in a torrent of words. "I've been in the hospital 55 days. Just got out. Got to go to Hot Springs. Abdominal trouble."

"Been waiting for this chance three years. Just as the opportunity arrives, I'm invalidated. Got to play baby while the rest of the fellows are having the fun. It's—it's hell! That's what it is. I—"He broke off abruptly, startled at his own unwonted volubility.

"Guess I've said enough," he growled. The officer was Captain Babcock of the Thirteenth infantry.

ONCE WEALTHY; NOW SEE WORK

Hundreds of Former Mexican Aristocrats Walk Streets Begging For Something to Do.

WERE DRIVEN FROM HOME

Two Classes of Refugees in San Antonio—Total of 12,000 in State of Texas

(By United Press.)

San Antonio, Tex., April 6.—Hundreds of once wealthy Mexican aristocrats walk the streets of San Antonio today, pitifully eager for any kind of work, at any wage they can get.

These men, women and children are divided into two classes; the shabby-genteel and the ragged. All of them were driven from broad acres and lives of luxury by sentences of death that today still await their return to seething Mexico. They prefer to stay here and be poor.

Other hundreds—there are about 6,000 Mexican refugees here,—were fortunate enough to bring gold with them when they fled from the land of too much trouble. They live in great style; and there are fashionable shops and exclusive places to live here, that are supported largely by them.

Most of these refugees, proud of their pure Castilian blood, new to poverty and its humiliations, sensitive to charity, will accept any employment to keep from becoming public or private charges.

A copy boy on one of the local American newspapers here, earning $6.00 per week, was, until the fall of Huerta, the petted son of a Mexican family of Tamaulipas whose boast was that their ranch was a day's horseback ride in length and breadth.

Among this number are several hundred Catholic priests and other dignitaries of the church. Many of these exiles have been deprived of their estates through some whirl or the other of the rapidly revolving wheel of Mexican fortune.

Residents tell of highly educated graduates of Chapultepec Military Academy, the West Point of Mexico, former captains, majors and even Diaz, who fled the country with him at his fall and who have refused to ally themselves with either Carranza or Villa, working as saloon porters, dish washers and irrigation ditch hands for a livelihood.

These are the so called "reactionary" Mexicans, the tattered remnants of the once haughty and wealthy Cientifico class, whose control over Mexico was as absolute as was that of Louis Sixteenth before the fall of the Bastille. The Bastille fell for Louis and Diaz died in a foreign land.

In San Antonio today the refugees of the old regime have only the uncertain fortunes of Felix Diaz to pin their hopes of "return" upon.

What London was to the aristocratic emigre of the French Revolution, San Antonio is to the banished aristocrat of Mexico. Today the best blood of the old regime is making San Antonio its home.

Here the best of Mexican doctors, lawyers, professional men, former cabinet officers, ex-governors of Mexican states, one time ministers to foreign courts, landed proprietors of vast estates, are living. There are about 12,000 Mexican refugees in Texas.

At San Antonio Rival Juntas of Villa and Carranza Forces Have Intrigued For Years.

PROMINENT MEXICANS THERE

Many Former Cabinet Ministers and Other High Officials Watch Chase For Villa.

San Antonio, April 6.—For the last three years San Antonio has been the unofficial capital of Mexico. There the rival juntas of the Carranza and Villa forces have plotted and intrigued. From Antonio most of financial aid so desperately needed by both sides at various times in the ups and downs of their fortunes has been negotiated and from here munitions have been bought and supplies forwarded.

Today there are over fifteen hundred prominent and formerly wealthy Mexicans living in San Antonio. Every one of them is vitally interested in the success of either Carranza or Villa. Many of them are men who in the last few years have held the highest official positions in one or the other of the shifting governments that have held temporary sway over the southern republic or parts of it.

Four cabinet ministers of the old Huerta regime, the most prominent being Manuel Garza Aldape, ex-minister of agriculture and Richard Gomez Robelo, attorney general for Huerta and the man who guided the old Indian warrior in the tortuous legal phases of his conflict with President Wilson.

Closely associated with them is Salome Botella, ex-governor of the state of Nuevo Leon under Huerta. This group is now reputed to be interested in Villa's campaign.

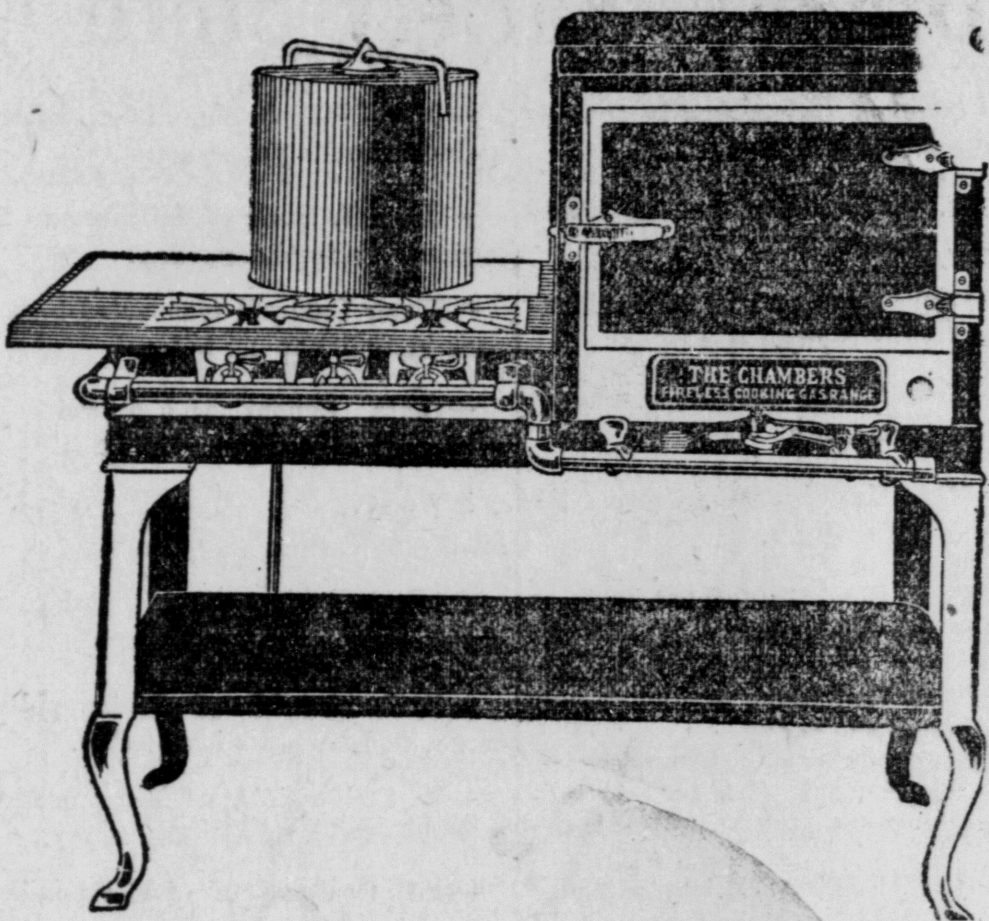

The Mexican Catholic church is represented by four archbishops and about thirty bishops who have been driven out of Mexico by the various warring factions. With them are a large number of priests who also were compelled to flee from the country.

Then there is a sprinkling of adherents of the ebullient Felix Diaz, who has a revolution ripe for picking if he can secure support; and also there are some supporters of Zapata.

The interests of Carranza are officially administered by Teodilo R. Beltran, Mexican consul general for the south western United States.

Connected with his office in an unofficial but very important capacity is Sam Belden, a San Antonio attorney, who has a title of chief advisor of the consulate. Belden is reputed to be close to Carranza and one of the men who in dealings with the United States government the First Chief is first to turn to for service.

There are seven Mexican newspapers published in San Antonio to serve the needs of the forty odd thousand native Mexicans who live in and about the city. All are bitterly partisan in backing their factional interests and several have very fair circulation.

Amusements

The Princess will show a three act drama "Destiny" for the first picture of the program tonight. Ruth Stonehouse and Bryant Washburn are featured. It is said to tell a fine story and is true to life. The other picture is a comedy "Too Clever by Half." Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew are featured in this one. An especially strong company has been organized to support Laura Hope Crews in the picturization of "The Fighting Chance," to be seen at the Princess tomorrow under the direction of Jesse L. Lasky and David Belasco. The company included Theodore Roberts, Cleo Ridgely, George Gebhardt and Florence Smythe. It tells the story of a heroic woman's struggle to believe in her husband, who has been convicted for robbing a bank. With all the evidence against him she still holds to her faith in his innocence until she is finally confronted by the "other woman" for whom the crime was committed.

The Gem offers the big feature "The Wolf-Man" for the first picture tonight. Miss Billie West is featured. It is said to be a fine production and one that is sure to please. The other picture is a comedy entitled "Leave it to Cissy." Cissy Fitzgerald is featured. Tomorrow the three act drama "The She Devil" will be shown in which Gladys Brockwell and Constance Talmadge are featured.

The Mystic will show the usual four reels tonight. The first is a three act drama "The Lighthouse by the Sea." Darwin Karr is featured and it is said to be a thrilling sea drama. The other picture is a comedy-drama "An Auction Sale of Run Down Ranch." Tomorrow the two act drama "The Man on the Watch" and the two other good pictures will be shown.

The current issue of Munsey's Magazine refers to "Town Topics," the big Winter Garden revue, as a "veritable whale of a show" and that is just what it is—a monster among musical comedy productions, and the claim that it is the largest entertainment of its kind ever to leave New York is no exaggeration. When it was produced there, it was proclaimed the most gorgeous production of its kind the American stage has ever seen, and this was true. No less than $150,000 was expended in making this the most elaborate and costly musical show ever devised, but money was not alone spent on the scenery and costumes, but in gathering together a cast of high salaried principals, and a highly trained chorus of singers and dancers, and it is this company, practically intact, which comes to the Shubert Murat Theatre April 11, 12 and 13th, with matinee Wednesday. It will require no less than six baggage cars to transport the scenery to this city. There are twenty scenes, twelve of which are massive—larger than anything hitherto attempted—including a subway car in motion and filled with passengers; the Polo Grounds in New York with the grand stand filled with fans, and a baseball game with scores of participants including forty pretty girls; a scene behind the stage of a theatre during a benefit performance; the launching of the ship of peace; a Mississippi River levee with steamboats passing and docking, which is suddenly transformed into a cotton plantation; a fashion shop in which forty girl mannequins display gowns costing over $30,000; a dancing pavilion and Indian village, and so many more novelties that one can scarce enumerate them. The cast includes the irresistible Trixie Friganza; the King of Slang, Bert Leslie; Wellington Cross and Lois Josephine, best of all singing and dancing couples; Marie Lavarre, Queen of singing soubrettes; Mabel Elaine, the living embodiment of Mrs. Stowe's Topsy; the Caribrey Brothers, in their famous Siamese dance; Artie Mehlinger, the singing juvenile, Gilbert Gregory as the funny Sheriff; Peter Page, as the dancing master and baseball umpire; John Johnson and Jimmy Fox.

Tickets for this attraction may be purchased through the Shubert Murat local representative, Hargrove & Mullin, druggists.

The spring meeting of the Indiana Presbytery of the United Presbyterian church closed late yesterday afternoon with the election of year-term officers and the selection of the place for the fall meeting. The conference at the afternoon session between the ministers also brought up many interesting topics for discussion.

Marquis of Indianapolis; superintendent of missions, Dr. Morris Watson of Princeton, Ind.; superintendent of Sabbath school, the Rev. J. H. McCann of Mays; superintendent of young Peoples' work, the Rev. Willard Wylie of Milroy. The clerk, the Rev. Mr. Brown, is elected for four years, and a new moderator is selected every six months. The Rev. Frederick Elliott of Springhill was elected to that office yesterday morning.

Castor Oil Prices Are up—And Going Higher

The war in Europe has brought rejoicing to one quarter at least.

Castor oil prices are steadily advancing, along with the prices of other chemicals and further advances are promised.

The medical profession never has discovered a substitute which had the healing properties of good old fashioned castor oil, and millions of gallons are used every year in the treatment of disorders of the stomach and intestines.

The unpleasant taste—the only drawback to the universal use of castor oil by both children and adults—has been overcome by a preparation called CASTOR-JELL, 94 per cent pure castor oil whipped into jellied form and flavored with orange, which may be had at the same prices that were fixed before the recent sharp advances in castor oil. On sale at Hargrove & Mullin's drug store, demonstration now going on. Castor Products, Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. George Austen were the dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wynn.

It has developed that Mrs. Lon Link, who was injured in a fall in Indianapolis, has an impacted fracture of the hip.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Austen of Gings had as dinner guests Sunday the Misses Myrtie Gustine, Marjorie and Beatrice Austen.

At the home of her uncle, Bruce Johnson, Miss Grace Ayres entertained at dinner Sunday Dr. Johnson, of Kansas City and Charlie Johnson.

P. A. C. CLUB

Instead of the pitch-in dinners which have been the form of the meetings of the Priscilla Art Club of Falmouth, the members enjoyed an afternoon of sewing today as the guests of Mrs. Albert Dickey. A dainty collation was served before the departure of the guests.

"500" CLUB

As the guests of Mrs. Ernest Mitchell of East Second street, the members of the Five Hundred Club enjoyed a merry evening together last evening. After several social games and a chat together, the hostess served a dainty luncheon.

WILLING WORKERS

The Willing Workers class of the St. Paul's M. E. church had their regular class meeting this afternoon when they were the guests of Mrs. Frazier Johnson in North Perkins street. A good attendance, interesting business session, and pleasant social hour combined in making the afternoon an enjoyable one.

NINETY-SECOND BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Susan Tingley, a well known woman of this city, will celebrate her ninety-second birthday tomorrow. Mrs. Tingley is enjoying excellent health and is proving a remarkable woman. She is quite active and makes a trip to the business district on an average of once a week. She does her own housework and does not show her age. Mrs. Tingley is a great reader and is especially interested in the war.

FOR BAZAAR

"Bazaar" seems to be in the air, for the members of practically all the churches are busy planning and stitching away for sales and bazaars of all kinds. Each society has, of course, in view mercenary aspirations. Last evening Miss Ella Stewart entertained the ladies of the Aid society of the First Baptist church who spent an industrious evening together. The good time and amount accomplished were encouraging rewards for them.

WITH MISS STIERS

The members of the Tuesday Afternoon Embroidery Club spent a pleasant afternoon together on Tuesday when they were the guests of Miss Chestina Stiers. After a sociable time over their needlework, the guests were treated to a tempting repast. In this group were Mrs. Charles Offut, Mrs. Wilbur Stiers, Mrs. Revilo Ferguson and the Misses Alice Norris, Nelle and Cora Winship and Bertha Helm.

SCHOOL DINNER

Tomorrow being the last day of school for the Glenwood schools, the teachers, pupils and patrons of the school will enjoy a pitch-in dinner at the school house. From indications, a large per cent of the community will take part in this affair which is given for the pupils and teachers.

MAZE-FLEETWOOD

Thomas J. Fleetwood, a well known farmer of this county and Miss Edna Maze of Shelby Co., were quietly married in Shelbyville Tuesday by the Rev. W. E. Carroll. After a short trip to Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Fleetwood will return to the home of the bride-groom in this county.

ENTERTAIN TEACHERS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stevens of Jackson township are entertaining at dinner this evening the teachers of that township. Mr. Stevens is a trustee and their guests are Mr. and Mrs. C. M. George, Mr. George being county superintendent, John Geraghty, Herman Sampson, the Misses Murphy, Pansy Newhouse, Maud Jones, Nellie Hayes and Sallie Foster.

CHICKEN DINNER

The chicken dinner served by the ladies of the W. R. C. in the P. O. S. of A. hall yesterday, lived up to the reputation that they have already established as culinary artists. At two o'clock, the quilt each block of which had been embroidered by a member of the order, was given to Mrs. Charles C. Brown. Twenty-eight dollars and twenty cents were cleared off of the quilt.

CARD PARTY

Three extra tables of players were entertained this afternoon when the Thursday Bridge Club met with Miss Chestina Stiers and Mrs. Wilbur Stiers at the home of the former in East Sixth street. Pink roses were prettily used in the decorations which made a pretty setting for the players. A delightful luncheon was served at the close of the card games to the twenty guests.

CALLED MEETING OF D. A. R.

Mrs. Will Dill, regent of the Rushville chapter requests the Daughters to meet with Mrs. D. D. Van-Osdol at 212 West Third street, Friday afternoon April 7th, to arrange a campaign for selling Belgian flags Saturday, April 8th. We are requested and urged to do this work by our president-general, Mrs. Will Comming Story, who is working in connection with a commission for the relief in behalf of the Belgians.

RED MEN SUPPER

After the degree work last evening when nine candidates were taken into the order at Falmouth by the Rushville team, the guests enjoyed a two course supper. It was a delicious one, and with the music that was furnished during the service, was greatly enjoyed by the guests who numbered about a hundred and fifty. Guests from Rushville, Mays and Raleigh were present at the gathering.

MODERN ART CLUB

Mrs. Harry McAuley was hostess for the members of the Modern Art Club this afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Retherford. Carnations were used in the attractive decorations for the affair, which was participated in by practically all the members of the club. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess as the afternoon, which had been an interesting one with fancy work and chatting, drew to a close.

NEW CLUB.

One of the first meetings of a club which has lately been organized here was held with Mrs. Will Dill lwaBo aewiamv b Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street. Rook, several lively games of it, amused the guests who later enjoyed a tempting salad course. In this "Cousins Club," are Mrs. H. V. Logan, Mrs.

Hattie Zimmer, Miss Zora Carney, Mrs. Leonard Alsop, Mrs. George Alexander, Mrs. Dora Wood, Mrs. Will Dill, and Mrs. Sarah Guffin.

AT THE HINCHMAN HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinchman entertained a large number of their friends at their home on Saturday evening, when games, contests, and music on the violin and piano helped in the gaiety of the event. A dainty luncheon was served near the close of the evening. The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hinchman were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Daubenspeck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jarret and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Austen and daughter, Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Austen, Mr. and Mrs. Lige Billings, Mr. and Mrs. William Hinchman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daubenspeck and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hinchman, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ertle and sons, William and Wayne, Miss Myrtie Gustine, Miss Millie Vandament, Omer Bowles and George Strait.

BELGIAN RELIEF.

Seven cents will feed one Belgian for one day, and this is the sum being asked by the members of the D. A. R. for the small Belgian flags they are selling on which are printed the words "Let us highly resolve that this people shall not perish from the earth." The proceeds from this sale, in which the 100,000 members of the D. A. R. in this country are lending their aid by trying to sell one hundred flags apiece, will go directly to the aid of the starving Belgians. Saturday, the birthday of the late Belgian king, an especial effort will be made to induce a large sale. In response to the suggestion of the members of the D. A. R. to take up this work, a cablegram was sent to them by the Belgian Queen stating "To all who will wear the Belgian flag on April 8th and 9th, I send in the name of the Belgian mothers my heartfelt thanks."

SEXTON C. W. B. M.

One of the most profitable meetings of the year for the Sexton C. W. B. M. was the one held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mike Mullins. About a dozen members responded to the roll call and four visitors were present. The numbers of the program were:

Hymn.
Scripture reading and prayer by leader, Mrs. Grace Winkler.
Bible Study—Mrs. Maud Oldham.
"Christ in Porto Rico"—Miss Ethel Wright.
Secretary's report and roll call—Mrs. Grubb.
Mrs. Kiser and Mrs. Whitton read an inspiring letter from W. C. McDougall, a missionary in India.
Recitation—Mildred Weise.
Study of the "King's Highway," conducted by Mrs. Orville Porter.
Reading—"A Mother's Reverie"—Mrs. Molly White.
Reading—Mrs. Minnie Weise, in which she impressed her hearers with the fact that the mission work is very wide awake.
Hidden answers—Mrs. John Whitton.

A delicate luncheon was then served by the hostess. The May meeting of the society will be with Mrs. John Weise.

GOLDEN WEDDING

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thraikill was celebrated in an ideal way last evening when about forty of their friends came in to spend the evening with them. Bringing their suppers, an elaborate feast was soon spread and the guests sat down to the repast. Mr. and Mrs. Thraikill received a number of lovely anniversary gifts, among them several beautiful bouquets of roses, carnations and other flowers which were used to advantage in decorating the home for the delightful party. In this company of relatives and friends anxious to make the day one long to be remembered by the guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stevens, Mrs. Trader and family, Mrs. Lafarra, Mrs. Flodder and family, Mrs. Lila Retherford, Mr. Thorpe, Mrs. Tyler and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hackman and family, Mrs. Gardner, Chris Gross, of Edinburgh, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moorman, Mr. and Mrs. Atwell Boling, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. Shiffler, Mrs. Davie Black and family, Mrs. Pete Demmer and family,

The children of the Jackson school are busily practicing for the cantata "The Smugglerman" which is to be given Friday evening, April 14th in the Graham Annex. The proceeds will go toward the purchase of supplementary books for the Jackson school, new records for the Victrola, and other supplies for the building. Tickets are on sale now from the children in the building, adults at 20 cents and children under fourteen years at 10 cents.

SIDNEY W. LANDON.

If the Lyceum committee were able to announce that dear old Mark Twain would fill a lecture engagement here or that Bill Nye, of cherished memory, would raise his querulous voice in our midst every business place in town would close, farmers would lock up their houses and barns, and industries would suspend to do him honor. So with a host of departed men of genius whose works are cherished by their fellow countrymen. In preparing his entertainment, "Speaking Likenesses of Great Men," Sidney Landon has performed a noteworthy service to the American platform and to the people of the country. Through Mr. Landon's interpretative art men like Twain, Nye, Longfellow, Holmes, Robert E. Lee, Edgar Allan Poe and countless others live again. By the use of wigs and grease paint he gives his audiences visualization and impersonation of these men which are startling in their approach to nature. He completely loses his own personality, submerging self in the great character he portrays, and so complete is the illusion that the audience feels that Landon has indeed vanished and the man he impersonates is present. So, while the Lyceum committee is unable to announce the actual presence of any of these departed great, there is real enthusiasm awakened by the fact that Sidney Landon is to be here and that our people are to be given an opportunity of making the acquaintance of "Speaking Likenesses of Great Men."

TO ORGANIZE BIRTH CONTROL

Woman Freed in Federal Court Will Tour Country in Interests of Campaign.

FIRST PLACE IS CHICAGO

Holds up Europe as Example to be Followed in This Country —Wants Laws Changed.

(By United Press.)

New York, April 6.—Freed of the charge, in Uncle Sam's federal indictment, that she sent vile and obscene matter through the mails in her birth control propaganda magazine, "The Woman Rebel," Mrs. Margaret Sanger left here today to visit and organize birth control societies among the women of all the larger cities in the United States.

Mrs. Sanger is on her way to Chicago, where she will conduct meetings of women, make speeches about birth control and organize a society of women to perpetuate birth control propaganda after she has gone on to other places. Mrs. Sanger will travel west to the coast cities and then east again by another route.

Mrs. Sanger hopes, by stirring up the interest of American wives and mothers, to make their influence cause the repeal of state and federal laws prohibiting the dissemination of birth control information.

In cities where there are no restrictions of this kind Mrs. Sanger hopes to establish clinics, similar to birth control clinics in European cities, where women of the working districts can apply for instruction in birth control. In addition to nurses who can instruct in birth control, these clinics will have a staff that will teach the care of infants.

Mrs. Sanger said before she departed today that no legislative power in the world can keep the women of America from learning and practicing birth control.

"Because," she added, "it is the logical and sensible and humane thing to do, law or no law."

"No woman should be compelled to bring a baby into the world unless she is physically fitted to properly endow the child with a good brain and body; and unless she is blessed with the resources to rear and educate the child and give it a fair chance to make its way in the world."

"That is what birth control knowledge is for: to show women under what conditions it is best for them to bear children."

"Birth control does not necessarily make for either larger or smaller families; it simply insures, through the mother's knowledge, a square deal and a fair chance for whatever children are born."

"In Europe, birth control is sanctioned by the governments."

"In the United States it is blindly condemned by law; laws that are lauded by certain influential and prominent citizens who secretly practice birth control while publicly denouncing it."

Mrs. Sanger was indicted by the United States court here in January for alleged indecent birth control propaganda statements in her magazine. New York society women, led by such well known individuals as Miss Fola LaFollette and others, accompanied Mrs. Sanger to court when she went to plead to the indictment; then afterwards caused the case to be given wide publicity.

The government dismissed the indictment against Mrs. Sanger before the case came to trial.

VERDUN HERO IS PLAIN SOLDIER

General Petain, The Defender of That Sector, Climbs Trees Just Same as Men in Ranks

SKIPS ROPE FOR EXERCISE

Believes Men Are Best Qualified Who Can Stand Rough Treatment And Hard Work

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, March 10—(By Mail)—General Petain, the defender of Verdun and now in supreme command in that sector, after rising from a Colonelship in 19 months, thinks no more of climbing trees, sleeping in a hayloft or wading through ice cold water than he does of eating breakfast in the morning.

The latest hero of the French army refused to be a hero. He insists upon remaining a plain soldier. He usually makes his headquarters in one of the poorest houses of a war-zone village and instead of the usual flag, sentries and buzzing motor-cars about his front door he stations a couple of men in citizen's clothes to keep off visitors, and lets it go at that.

Though 59 years old, he skips the rope 10 minutes every morning before breakfast. A shave and bath add to his appetite and so his day gets off with a flying start. He is willing himself to do anything he asks the humblest private in his command to do. If manœuvres in the rain and mud are necessary, he often puts himself at the head of some company and walks with them bare-headed and minus waterproofs.

Officers desiring a place on his staff can't have the job simply because they are chic; they must be able to do rough service, ride a bicycle, run a mile in record time, eat plain food and work any and all sorts of hours.

One of the General's favorite ways of taking observations is to climb to the top of some high tree and see for himself what is going on. He can get to the top of such a tree quicker than any men on his staff. He watched the Verdun fighting in an armored motor car in which he dashed up and down the lines. He has had 17 chauffeurs in two months. He goes so fast he wears them out in a day or so.

Philippe Petain was born April 24, 1856 at Cauchy-la-Tour, Department of the Pas-de-Calais, or near the English Channel. His career was not brilliant, though he was an honor man of his class at the War College, for he was not made a Colonel until he was 55 years of age. This was his grade when the war came on and brought to light his real military value.

Thirty days after hostilities began he was brigadier general and three days more saw him acting general of division, to which grade he was advanced a few days later. The three stars of a corps commander were given him Oct. 25 when he went to the head of the 33rd which was to cover itself with glory at Careneney, Notre-Dame-de-Lorette and Ablain, in Artois.

In April, 1915, he was acting commander of the Second Army and in June the title became permanent. He was one of the main springs in the Champagne fighting.

General Petain, soon to be 60 years old, a colonel less than two years ago, has won his way considerably on merit. He has never had a "pull," as proved by the fact that when the war began he was on the point of retiring from the army with a low rank for a Continental army man.

Oldest Soldier In Actual Service Is Ready To Join In Villa Chase

(By United Press.)
Columbus, O., April 6.—The United States Barracks here has the oldest soldier in active service in the United States army. He is Otis C. West, 66, a private, who works in the Barracks store room, but is ready to join the Villa chase.

"I'm no spring chicken, but if Uncle Sam wants any old fellow with a lot of pep and who knows the fighting game, to go after Villa, he sure can count on me," West said today.

Having reared a family and closed a busy civilian career which ran all the way from farming to college and politics, West through special permission of Adjutant General Corbin enlisted in the army when he was 51 years old.

A private has to serve 30 years before he is retired on a pension, West has served 15 years, five of which were in the Philippines, and he says he's going to serve out the other 15.

"During my entire army service I have never killed a man, but I've had some exciting experiences. When I was a kid of 6 in Cedar Falls, Iowa, near Spirit Lake, I was in the midst of a Sioux Indian massacre. I remember how the Indians shut us up in the village and how seared we all were.

"Do I remember the Civil War? I remember what a licking my dad gave me when I ran away from home at the age of 14 to join the Union forces. I didn't get very far. I was caught.

"I was at Ft. Brown, Texas, in the third battery, 26th infantry in 1905 when the 25th infantry of colored troops had an uprising and President Roosevelt discharged the whole company."

In 1876, West taught commercial law at Oberlin university. In 1877 he became constable at Des Moines, and later was elected city assessor.

On McKinley's second call for volunteers he joined the Third Nebraska Volunteers and served under Colonel Bryan at Cuba. A year later he joined the army, went to the Philippines and then to Ft. Wayne, Michigan, where he was promoted to quarter master sergeant of Company B, 26th Infantry.

Because of the expiration of his time West was discharged in 1913, came to Columbus and re-enlisted as a private at the age of 63 years.

TO ADD TO WORK OF POSTMASTER

partment wanted to get rid of assistant postmasters by abolishing the office. Congress would not stand for it and it is believed by many that the firm attitude shown on that proposed measure will be repeated in the House on the present proposition.

It is anticipated that there will be a general and sweeping opposition to the measure from local communities that will lose their postmasters and become sub-stations if the legislation goes through Congress.

DR. SEXTON TALK TO THE HIGH SCHOOL

Rushville Physician Says Education, Honesty and Ambition Are Necessary in Medicine.

SERIES VOCATIONAL TALKS

One of the most popular speakers who has addressed the local high school in the series of vocational talks was Dr. J. C. Sexton who spoke yesterday on the study of medicine. The applause of students and teachers was very hearty. With apt illustrations he brought out the points necessary for one to have to become a physician. Genius, he said, is not always apparent at first, but the profession demands several things, among the most important of which are education, honesty, and ambition. He then gave some interesting facts about the practice of medicine, bringing them out with clever stories. Dr. Sexton was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. D. C. Green, who having been a former student in the high school was universally welcomed.

The next of the vocational talks which have proved interesting and profitable to the students will probably be by the Rev. C. M. Yocum on the ministry.

TOUGH ON BABIES.

INFANT DEATH RATE FALLS OFF

S. S. McClure, American Magazine Man, Makes Startling Discovery Regarding Germany.

INVESTIGATED THE SUBJECT

Says it is Astonishing What Has Been Done Towards Saving the Babies' Lives.

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, (via Amsterdam), April 6.—Germany's infant death rate has not increased, as was supposed in Germany's neighbor countries. On the contrary, it has fallen off materially. Also, Germany's general health is better. S. S. McClure, the American newspaper and magazine man, has been investigating the matter and these are his conclusions:

Every belligerent country wants all the babies it can get, to make up for losses in battle. There was talk in Germany recently of offering a premium for babies. This has been accomplished, he explains, by doubling the mothers' "maternity wages" and by discovery that by the addition of vegetables, apple sauce and oatmeal to the babies' diet and the reduction of their allowance of milk, at the age of five months, the infants' health benefits so greatly that far fewer of them die than heretofore. The American's inquiry has covered both Germany and Belgium. "It is astonishing," he says, "what has been done toward saving the babies' lives. There seems to have been no difficulty in getting them born. The problem has been how to keep them alive afterward.

"Formerly many people were too poor to buy milk. Now, both in Germany and Belgium, it is obligatory to make an allowance of one litre daily to each mother.

"Soldiers' wives each receive a 20-cent daily cash allowance. Eight weeks before the birth of a child this allowance is increased 50 per cent. and after the child has been born there is an additional 50 per cent. increase if the infant is nursed.

"Berlin's normal milk supply is 1,000,000 litres daily. Today two-thirds as much as this is available. In Berlin alone there are 10,000 cows. Their milk goes to the babies.

"The doctors take such excellent care of mothers that the infant death rate has slumped from 19 to 100—the pre-war rate—to 11 per 100, at present.

"Illness among school children has shown a heavy decrease. Insurance companies report less illness among the people generally than before the war.

"The meatless days and the absence of luxurious foods are simply making a healthier people. It is marvelous. I have been to Brussels, I have seen Brand Whiteclark, Gen. von Bissing and others and I learn that infectious disease is almost unknown in Belgium. There has been a tremendous decrease in the number of tuberculosis cases.

"Ninety-seven per cent of the Belgian communes show a lower death rate than ever before. The explanation is that the people eat less meat, and furthermore the supervision of the milk supply makes it possible for everyone who needs it to obtain it in adequate quantities.

"Therefore, why a premium on babies?"

PECULIAR FACTS ABOUT WELL KNOWN PEOPLE.

Berlin, April 4.—Field Marshal von Mackensen, who commanded the German and Austrian troops in Galicia and Serbia, is especially popular with the Kaiser, for he is what we call in America, "a good sport." Mackensen is a great story teller and keeps the Kaiser amused whenever the two are together and have a few minutes to visit and forget about work.

This Quaker Cooker

We have supplied perfect double Cookers to over 700,000 homes, to make Quaker Oats more delightful. They are made to our order to bring out the fullness of the flavor and aroma.

Such a Cooker as this, if sold at retail, would cost more than most homes would pay. But our purpose requires it in every home where Quaker Oats are used, so we ourselves supply it.

Our purpose is this: To create more Quaker Oats users, by making this the best-loved morning dish.

To this end, we use queen grains only in this brand—just the big, plump grains. We get but ten pounds per bushel. That means that two-thirds of the oats as they come to us are discarded in making Quaker Oats. The result is large, luscious flakes. They make this dish doubly-delicious. Yet they cost you no extra price.

These flavory flakes have won the world to Quaker. In a hundred nations this is the favorite brand. Millions of oat lovers send thousands of miles to get it.

Our next object is right cooking, and we offer this Cooker to every home to attain it. But we supply only one to a home.

Get this Cooker next week under this special offer. You want children to delight in this vim-food. You want them to eat an abundance. The way to attain that is to serve Quaker Oats cooked in this Quaker Cooker.

Next Week 50c—But No Longer

Next week's offer is this: Send us five trademarks—the picture of the Quaker—cut from the fronts of five Quaker Oats packages, standard size, or two from the large size. Send with them only 50 cents, check or money order preferred, and we will send the Cooker by parcel post prepaid.

For one week—for next week—we cut the payment in two. For 50c you get this big Aluminum Cooker. But this offer will not be repeated. No requests will be honored unless mailed next week.

Note the grocers who have displays of Quaker Oats featuring the Quaker Cooker. Learn about the Cooker, and if you approve, arrange next week to get it. Please don't forget.

General Pershing Proves To Be Great Little Interviewer Himself

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., April 6.—If General Pershing and his flying column should capture Francisco Villa today and Villa should ask the General what he was going to do with him, Pershing probably would, probably, counter with.

"Well, Villa, what do you think about it?"

For Pershing, as newspaper men had ample opportunity to learn when he was here, is not a communicative man.

Before you could see General Pershing, you had to warm an already over-heated chair in an outer office.

Major Hines, post adjutant, who had a desk in the same room would get a long distance call over the phone. He'd bawl to an orderly, nod significantly at you, and the orderly politely would shove you back into the hall. You felt like the frog in the well that jumped one foot and fell back two.

Finally you were ushered into the presence of the man who is leading the American expedition into Mexico. Pershing has a very good memory for faces and names and correctly tags you when you greet him.

"Well, general, when you going in?"

"Haven't the least idea, what's the latest from Washington?"

"War department isn't giving out much. San Antonio, says you're to have charge, though."

"Your information pretty reliable?"

"Sure. How long is it going to take you to catch Villa?"

"What do you think about it?"

"I'll swap opinions with you. Six months."

"Ahem."

"Where was that bunch of the Sixteenth bound for?"

"West."

"Whereabouts?"

The general evidently is a close student of the European war.

"Somewhere in New Mexico," he grins.

The phone rings. The general nods toward the door. You've got that motion down pat now, so you beat it.

On the way out you tackle Major Hines, Captain Godson and everybody else wearing leather leggings (the infallible insignia of an officer.) They're about as full of news as a recipe book.

After doing the rounds of the government offices and other sources of information you go back to Fort Bliss and start all over again. About the third time you become so proficient in "questions and answers" that you can beat the "interviewer" to it every time.

An American correspondent on the border right now has about the same status as a Villista spy.

SAM AND CUPID IN PARTNERSHIP

Through Department of Agriculture
They Announce Invention of
of "Scientific" Cottage.

CHANGE FOR JUNE BRIDES

House Has Four Primary Features

And is Arranged to Save
Bride Many Steps.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 6.—Uncle Sam and Dan Cupid today signed articles of incorporation as The Love in a Cottage & First Aid to Cupid Company, unlimited. Through their chief architect at the Department of Agriculture, Sam & Cupid today announced the invention of "a perfect love of a vine-clad cottage economically and scientifically made."

Any sweet June bride may receive copy of the "Dove Cote" plans by writing to Sam & Cupid, care of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

First of all, this darling little duck of a house is so ingeniously arranged that it will save the bride 182,500 steps a year. There are, besides the wonderful patent kitchen, a dining room, living room and two bedrooms; a front porch and a large sleeping porch.

And if you don't happen to be a June bride, you may have a copy of the plans just the same, by asking for them.

Everything has been figured out. With the arrangements made by the architect, the housewife can go in to the kitchen in the morning and need come out only for meals, if that's the way she feels about it.

The poison-gas menace from cooking cabbage, the heat prostration danger from overheated stoves, that tired feeling that results from too many steps between the kitchen and the dining room all have been attended to.

The house has four primary features: a cool, convenient kitchen and dining room; bedrooms and living rooms with the best exposure; facilities for outdoor sleeping, and an easily heated house, cool in summer and sunny in winter.

The kitchen's principal feature is the cooking room, just large enough to accommodate a stove. When the door of the room is closed, the cabbage may boil or the ham burn up and no odor will penetrate to the kitchen proper. The housewife need not stay in the room with the stove; in fact, she couldn't get in if she wanted to.

Windows are so arranged that there is always a breeze through the kitchen. The front porch is arranged so it can't exclude any sunlight. The sleeping porch is germproof and airy. The kitchen and dining room are so convenient that it is unnecessary to carry dishes between them—they can be pushed right through the wall. The china closet has doors in both rooms and dishes are laid in at one door and taken out of another in the next room.

In addition to the front and sleeping porches there is a screened porch reached from the kitchen. A feature disclosed by an examination of the screened porch, by the way, is a fuel room. Fuel is poured into it from the back yard—it may be dumped right from a wagon into the room—and, like the trick china closet, permits being emptied from another entrance in the kitchen.

There are seven closets in the house, which is only one story. The nearest approach to a second story is where a window has been deserted. That window gives exit to the smoke and smells from the cooking room, with which it and an inside chimney connect.

Women Will Have More to Say About Running the Country Following the War.

MAKE GOOD DURING CRISIS

Everywhere in Great Britain They Are Doing Work of Men—Will Outnumber Men.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, April 6.—Women will have a great deal to say about running England after the war. If they get the vote they will rule England's electorate, as there were 1,000,000 more British women than men before the war.

The suffragettes abandoned militant tactics when fighting began with the Germans, but they have been conducting an educational campaign ever since.

Its keynote has been the thorough advertisement of the extent to which women have taken the places of men at the front. Since women can do men's work, the suffragists argue, why weren't they entitled to the franchise on the same footing with men?

There is no theory about this proposition. It is practical. The women actually are doing work it used to be taken for granted only men satisfactorily could do. In a good many instances, it is conceded, they are doing it better than the men did. The country, too, is mighty glad to get them. It is begging for their help.

Munition making is largely in women's hands. Women are rapidly taking over the positions of the men street car and bus conductors.

Women are running elevators. Women are acting as ticket sellers and choppers.

A woman's army is being recruited to do England's farming. Women clerks are behind the counters of the retail stores of all kinds.

Women chauffeurs are numerous. Women run delivery wagons.

Women are doing all sorts of clerical work in banks, wholesale houses, insurance offices and counting rooms generally.

This drafting of women has been far more general on the European continent than in England. On the continent, however, there has been no such corresponding effort on the women's part to get value received for their wartime help, in the form of subsequent political concessions.

After all women have during the war, it is hard to see how England can refuse what they demand later. At any rate, it is a safe conclusion that they will get a respectful hearing when they present their claims next time, instead of the contemptuous dismissal which efforts met before the great European struggle.

Comment by the new women workers, too, shows that suffragette representations are making an impression on the rank and file.

The next demand, consequently, will be no mere dilatant movement. Instead, it will come from the women who have done as much as any man in the fields to aid the country in an emergency, whose services and sacrifices already have been publicly recognized and who can speak, and act, with a genuine determination never hitherto characteristic of suffragetteism in England.

If they fail to get what they want, get it, England will be ruled, electorally, by women.

Census figures show that, before the war, there were about 1,000,000 more women than men in the British Isles.

After the war, between the losses of men in the field and the expected heavy emigration, which will be largely of young, unmarried men, the disproportion will be still larger—perhaps another 1,000,000.

WOMEN TAKE PLACE OF MEN IN GERMANY

War Has Developed Expert Traveling Saleswomen—Doing Exceptionally Well.

EVEN WORKING IN FIELDS

(By United Press.)

Leipzig, April 6.—Dr. Wendtland, Chief Counsel to the Leipzig Chamber of Commerce, the most important Commercial body in Germany, today said:

"Women have taken the places of men in every line. Most of our employees in the Chamber of Commerce are women and it is amazing how well they take hold. Every store and every office has its women assistants today who do the work the men in the field used to do."

"But what the firms doing for expert salesmen?" it was asked.

"Women now are the sales experts," he said. "This is the day of woman. Expert saleswomen are the product of this war."

"But what are you going to do after the war when the men return from the front?"

"There will not be much competition then," he replied. "Our losses have been such that many of the women who work today will be needed in their same positions after this war."

DON'T NEGLECT KIDNEYS

Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Prescription, Overcomes Kidney Trouble

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

The kidneys should receive some assistance when needed. We take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying, brickdust or sediment, shallow complexion, rheumatism, maybe weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. There is nothing else like it. It is Dr. Kilmer's prescription used in private practice and it is sure to benefit you. Get a bottle from your druggist.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Rushville "Daily Republican." (Advertisement)

has to say about cream separators this week

YOU will find the De Laval is the easiest and most satisfactory to use and keep in good running order. There is nothing about the operation, cleaning, adjustment or care of a modern De Laval which requires expert knowledge or special tools.

Only tool required

There are no parts which require frequent adjustment in order to keep the machine running smoothly or to conform to varying conditions in the every day use of a cream separator.

There is nothing about this machine that cannot be taken apart, removed or replaced by any one who can use a wrench or screw driver. In fact, the only tool which is needed for the operation of a De Laval Cream Separator is the combination wrench and screw driver illustrated above, furnished free with the machine.

We will be glad to have you examine a De Laval and see for yourself the simplicity and convenience of its construction.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

House Insurance For Business Men

This is the day of Insurance — Insurance against Death, Accident, Sickness, Fire and Decay transfers hazard into security. SHERWIN WILLIAMS PAINT is the old time insurance policy of 90 per cent of the world's greatest railroads and corporations. Specify and demand it because of the low eventual cost is their criterion of value and their cheapest insurance.

Fleeing Families With Homes Destroyed Shown In War Films

Reproductions of German and Austria-Hungarian activities in Russian Poland will be shown at the Princess theater under the supervision of the Daily Republican Tuesday, April 11. Eight and one-half reels of film with hundreds of miles of scenery taken in the devastated country swept by the Teutonic forces in their recent assault against the Russians. They tell a story of suffering among aged men, women and children forced to flee during the siege of their town, and returning to find their homes ruined either by shell, fire or the torch applied by the retreating forces.

"On the Firing Line with the Germans" or a more appropriate title might be, "The Adventures of a Press Photographer in War Ridden Europe," for in fully 50 percent of the film Wilbur H. Durborough, one of many photographers from this country who figures in the pictures, is shown conducting a somewhat personal tour over the ground from the time he leaves for the battlefield until after the fall of Warsaw.

With him the spectator visits the soldier's camps, stand alongside the Kaiser, the Crown Prince and Princess, when he commends some officer for bravery, examine the different types of guns, from the rapid fire to the heavy motors, view the surrounding country from an observation balloon, visit the wounded in the hospitals, bury the dead in the battlefields, watch the convalescing soldiers go through a course of gymnastics under the instruction of a scientist, see them return to the front to fill the gaps made by other wounded and dead and inspect the ruined forts and bridges.

Accompanied by an Austrian, German or Hungarian officer newly acquired territory, and a tour is made through the evacuated Russian trenches and underground strongholds that resemble hunting lodges rather than places of safety from flying bombs.

The German engineers construct a pontoon bridge in full view of the spectators and later stretch telephone and telegraph lines of communication between stations on the field of battle.

To the accompaniment of martial strains from the orchestra, charges on the battlefield are shown, these pictures are not poses, but actual realistic, awe inspiring occurrences and possibly the saddest of all is the exodus of refugees from their homes on foot or in carts with as many of their belongings as they can carry—cattle, horses, pigs, geese and dogs precede or follow their owners to places of safety.

Prominent Germans obligingly pose for the American newspaper man and many well known Americans also smile through the films and send their greetings to their friends. Notable among these are Miss Jane Addams, who was then on her famous peace mission and James W. Gerard, United States ambassador to Germany. The kaiser, and kaiserin, their daughter and three sons, including the crown prince emerge from the palace just as the camera man appears on the scene, and before they enter their conveyance he had their likeness on the film. From this peaceful and beautiful city Durborough motored to the hotbed of the strife, armed with necessary credentials and with American pluck and perseverance. Along the way he snaps Russian prisoners at work on the roads, piling up hay and engaged in other employment under the supervision of their German captors. They seem contented.

Photographically these pictures would be a credit to more efficient "movie" photographers than Mr. Durborough. There is a lack of grayness throughout the 8,500 feet of film. Sharp black and white lines reflect the objects clearly and there isn't the usual flicker evident in most pictures taken by the average photographer at the front. Remarkable results were obtained by the camera man when he focussed his machine to take the smoke made by the bursting shells in midair and the Zeppelins as they sailed majestically over the city of Warsaw. The power of the lens manifests itself in the distant scenes, picturing the advances of the German soldiers upon the Polish capital.

SAYS DAUGHTER GAVE HIM WHISKEY

Aged Man Claims he Was Influenced to Sign Deed to Property—Now in Hospital.

SUES TO HAVE IT CANCELLED

(By United Press.) Newcastle, Ind., April 6.—Elijah Pressnall, aged and infirm, is suing his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Keesling, alleging that she gave him whiskey and by misrepresentation persuaded him not to sign over to her a deed to property valued at $1,660. The old man asks that the deed be cancelled.

The complaint asserts that Mrs. Keesling sought to have her father committed to an insane hospital. Pressnall asserts that he thought when he signed the paper he was giving the property to his daughter in trust that would care for his old age.

The old man is in a hospital and cannot be moved.

MATCH PRICES SOARING.

(By United Press.) St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—Rubbing sticks again may become the world's way of making fire. The price of matches is soaring. Soon boxes selling for a penny may be bringing ten cents. This was the declaration today of T. B. Tacker, match manufacturer of Chicago, who says that of the 37 chemicals used in making matches, the majority are imported from foreign countries, now at war; and cannot be gotten.

SOME SOAP.

New York, April 6.—"I want a cake of the best toilet soap you have," a shopper in one of the big New York department stores said to a saleswoman the other day; "how much is it, please?" "Two dollars and ninety cents," was the staggering reply as the clerk brought forth from a case a small, daintily wrapped package; "and you're lucky to get this, for we're not getting any more of them now." It was a French soap, and the high price, it was said, was due to the exquisite perfume used in its manufacture.

Don't you do it. Use "Gets-It," it's marvelous, simple, never fails. Apply it in 2 seconds. Nothing to stick to the stocking, hurt or irritate the toe. Pain stops. Corn comes "clean off," quick. CANADIANS ARE ATTENDING

Special Feature is The Rock Garden
—New Chinese Lilies Attract
Attention

(By United Press.)

New York, April 6.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught and their daughter, Princess Patricia, (Princess Pat), are to attend the opening of the International Flower Show at Grand Central Palace here today, as patrons of the Canadian Red Cross Tea Garden, a feature of the big show.

New York society is much interested in the coming of the Canadian nobles, who will remain here several days before going west on an extended visit to several midwestern and western cities of the United States.

Today's entertainment for The Governor General of Canada, the Duchess and Princess Pat., whose regiment in the Canadian expeditionary force in Europe has so distinguished itself, is under the direction of Miss Margaret Cameron, official representative of the Canadian Red Cross in the United States.

Canada is taking an important part in the flower show and also has a delegation of 50 charming Canadian hospital lassies serving in the tea garden, which is one of the prettiest and most elaborate features of the show.

A committee of Canadians will assist Miss Cameron, who is a sister of Mrs. Belmont Tiffany. Mrs. Tiffany and Mrs. William Kinnicutt Draper are assuming active management of the tea garden. The Canadian committee will include Mrs. William Dodson, Mrs. Dr. Charles H. Peck and Miss Hay.

The big International Flower show in the Palace from April 5 to 12, inclusive will be the greatest show that this country or probably the world has ever known.

American florists will show many new creations, and there is a constantly increasing interest among amateurs. The far East will make contributions, while Australia and South Africa and different South American countries will be among the exhibitors.

A special new feature of this show will be the rock garden exhibits. This style of garden is comparatively new in America, but is beginning to excite considerable interest. The idea may be carried out in many ways, in all of which rocks, stones, flagging, posts, mossy banks, creviced walls, and rugged settings predominate. Such a garden properly planned and planted with many varieties of plants adapted to it is a delight, and after about

SAGE TEA KEEPS
YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It
Brings Back Its Beautiful
Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

two years has the appearance of age so much sought in our newly laid out grounds.

The new Chinese lilies which have excited so much attention among professional horticulturists in the last year or two will, it is expected, be on exhibition, with many other new Chinese plants and shrubs found to be handy in this climate. The Farquhars of Boston will exhibit these, which are the result of long and arduous trips through the unexplored regions of Western China made by the celebrated botanist and naturalist, E. H. Wilson.

The lilies, in appearance like Easter lilies, have been found to do splendidly in the Middle Atlantic States, putting forth their magnificent blooms in Summer for years after the first planting, with little or no attention.

The acacias, chiefly from Australia, will be seen at the show in their best flowering condition. The delicate yellow flower balls, or tassels, are in many of the varieties, delightfully fragrant.

South Africa will be represented by several varieties of amaryllis with flowers of gorgeous hues.

The rose garden of which it is expected there will be five or six, each covering 500 square feet of space and embodying most original ideas in the way of arrangement and inclusion of accessories, will form, perhaps, the prime feature of the show. Everybody loves roses, and the strong competition for the chief prize, $500 in cash, will insure a great treat for the visitors. The display of climbing roses will be very large, as also will be those of teas, hybrid teas, and perpetual roses, suitable for outdoor gardens. Among the cut roses will be found specimen blooms of new varieties which until now have been seen only by a favored few. Some of these are of American origin, and demonstrate that our own hybridizers are doing in the rose world.

Graham Newall Fitch 1810-1892.

Dr. Graham N. Fitch, one of the greatest surgeons of his time, was born in Genesee County, N. Y., 1810. He began the study of medicine with his father, but removed to Logansport, opened an office of his own and was early recognized as the most skillful practitioner in Northern Indiana. His wide acquaintance caused his friends to force him into politics, and he was in the legislature from 1836 to 1839. During the latter session, he was chairman of the committee on education. In 1844 he became professor in Rush Medical College, Chicago, where he served for three years. Returning in political life he was elected to congress and in 1856 entered the United States senate and served until 1861. At the outbreak of the war he raised a regiment (46th Indiana volunteers) and served with credit in the campaign of the Mississippi valley. After the war he returned to his practice in Logansport and died there in 1892.

Get the Habit of
Drinking Hot Water
Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right
with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation. Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

WATSON UNANIMOUSLY NAMED FOR SHORT TERM

Harry S. New is Nominated For Long Term
Senatorship at Republican State Convention Today.

WATSON SPEAKS

Opposition to Former Progressive as Delegate-at-Large Melts Into Thin Air

ED. C. TONER IS ELECTED

Edward Bush of Salem is Unanimously Chosen When Opponent
Moves His Nomination

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 6.—Harry S. New and James E. Watson were nominated by acclamation for the long and short term United States senatorship respectively this afternoon in the Republican state convention.

Opposition to the election of a former Progressive as delegate-at-large to the national convention from Indiana melted into thin air this afternoon and E. C. Toner of Anderson was by acclamation made one of the big four.

The other three are Fred A. Simms, James E. Hemenway and Will H. Hays.

Following closely the endorsement of Charles Warren Fairbanks as Indiana's choice for the candidate for president the election of Toner as delegate indicated that the Fairbanks men relied on the instructions of the convention to bind Toner to Fairbanks and ignored the fear expressed by some that he might stampede to the Colonel.

Winfield T. Durbin of Anderson who issued a statement early today that he intended to try for election as delegate-at-large, withdrew from the race just before the convention assembled, leaving the way clear for Toner.

James P. Goodrich, the primary nominee for governor, was assured by Warren T. McCray and Quincey A. Myers, his opponents at the primary, that they were glad to make way for him.

Edward Jackson was nominated by acclamation for secretary of state.

New and Watson addressed the convention.

"The Democratic party can't handle a crisis," said Watson. "It makes 'em. It is just as essential for the G. O. P. to follow a Democratic administration as for an ambulance to follow an army on the field. The Democrats don't know the difference between diplomacy and duplicity or progress and motion."

The first fight developed over the nomination for a candidate for lieutenant governor that the convention make the nomination of Edward Bush of Salem unanimous and this was done.

Otto L. Klauss of Evansville was this afternoon nominated as the candidate for auditor of state on the first ballot. The vote was Klauss, 622 1-6; C. E. Makepeace of Anderson; 213 2-3 and L. Newt Brown of Franklin 332 1-6.

Limit Tax Rate Is Keynote of The Platform

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—Indiana Republicans candidates for state offices will go before the people in the next campaign asking election on a platform declaring for the budget system for expenditure of state funds, a business-like administration, a limit to the tax rate, abolishment of unnecessary state departments and simplification of the primary law.

The report of the resolutions committee containing these planks and others was adopted today by the Republican state convention.

National policies espoused included a demand for an early enactment of "a genuine protective tariff," a privately owned and operated merchant marine, "such preparedness as is necessary upon land and sea to protect American citizens and property at home and abroad," and a condemnation of President Wilson's Mexican policy.

The platform does not specifically condemn the administration's international policy but under the heading, "American neutrality," demands that the rights of American citizens be upheld.

The platform does not mention woman suffrage, state-wide prohibition or a constitutional convention. The constitutional amendment fixing a limit to the tax rate and fixing the legislature's power to effect taxation reforms are favored.

Other plans are:

Amending the constitution to authorize the governor to veto any item in any appropriation bill and prohibiting the increase of any official's salary for the term of the office whether elective or appointive. Reaffirming friendship for labor and condemning child labor.

FUNERAL SATURDAY.

The funeral services of Dr. Hugh H. Elliott, who dropped dead yesterday afternoon, will be conducted Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the United Presbyterian church, by the Rev. J. T. Aiken and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

Richard N. Elliott of Connersville and Thomas Millikan of Newcastle were elected delegates to the national convention. They were endorsed by the district committee at its reorganization meeting. Alternate delegates selected were Frank Taylor of Richmond and Elden A. Ropp of Greenfield.

John Payne of Connersville was selected vice-president from this district and Walter S. Montgomery of Shelbyville assistant secretary. Will Hough of Greenfield was chosen district elector and G. I. Bryson of Laurel contingent elector.

METAL ON SUSSEX PART OF TORPEDO

This is Finding of American Attaches
Appointed to Investigate
Circumstances.

FIRST POSITIVE INFORMATION

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 6.—The American attaches who were appointed to examine the pieces of metal found on the Channel packet Sussex have reported their investigation shows the pieces were parts of a German torpedo. The findings of the attaches were based on a comparison of metal pieces with the structure of captured German torpedoes in Paris.

The report to the state department is the first positive information this government has received indicating it was a German submarine that attacked the Sussex.

The report made today is said to be a preliminary one.

Shortly after the report became known, Secretary Lansing asked for an appointment with President Wilson. He was expected to go to the white house some time before noon.

SAYS U. S. SOLDIERS SHOULD WITHDRAW

General Garcia, in Statement Today, is Believed to Reflect Views of Carranza Government.

UNNECESSARY TO TAKE VILLA

(By United Press.)
El Paso, Texas, April 6.—General Garcia, chief Carranza official along the border, today declared himself in favor of the United States withdrawing from Mexico. There is no doubt here that Garcia's views reflect those of the Carranza government. Garcia stated that further advance into Mexico might precipitate trouble.

"The American expedition has achieved its purpose of breaking Villa's strength and scattering his followers," Garcia said. "It is not necessary to capture Villa to make the expedition a success. It would be useless to have thousands of men to pursue him as it may take an indefinite time to capture him. Villa can be captured more easily by offering a big reward. There is no reason in my opinion for the American army pursuing the campaign further."

ARLINGTON CLASS VISITS RUSHVILLE

Seniors Inspect Several Manufacturing Institutions, Including City Plant.

COMMENCEMENT ON APRIL 26

The senior class of the Arlington high school made an inspection trip to Rushville yesterday afternoon, visiting several manufacturing plants, the electric light and water plant and the Daily Republican. The class is especially interested in electricity. The tour of the city was arranged by Harry Mahin, principal of the Arlington school. The class has studied the things they saw, but believed the information they learned from actual views to be valuable.

This year's class is composed of nine members. The annual commencement exercises will be conducted April 26. Ray C. Ballard of Lewisville will deliver the class address.

The class is composed of five girls and four boys as follows: the Misses Della Hufford, Emma Posey, May Gardner, Mary Conway, and Effie Offutt and Omar McKibben, Tom Saunders, Arthur Conway, and Everard Johnson.

TO ADD TO WORK OF POSTMASTER

Bill in Congress Would Place G. P. Hunt in Charge of Postoffice of Rush County

WILL MEET WITH OPPOSITION

Anticipated That Communities Outside County Seats Would Object to Such a Measure

Should a certain piece of legislation now pending in Congress and receiving ardent backing from the post-master-general, be enacted into law, G. P. Hunt would become postmaster for Rush county, instead of being postmaster for Rushville alone and all postoffices in the county outside of Rushville would become substations and operate under the direction of the Rushville office. The same sort of situation would be created in every other county throughout the country.

That such legislation is even contemplated will be news to most persons, as it has attracted virtually no attention. Under its sweeping provisions, 50,000 postmasterships throughout the country would be abolished. The offices themselves would not be wiped out, but after the postmasterships have been abolished the offices would be open to the appointment of superintendents. Postmaster General Burleson is openly and earnestly backing the legislation and doing all he can to procure its passage.

The legislation proposes a reorganization of the postal savings system. The House committee on post-office and post roads refused to recommend it and the bill as it passed the House did not contain the provision. It was incorporated in the Senate bill, however, and is now one of the amendments in dispute between the House and Senate conferees. The provision, which would go far toward uprooting the established postal service, reads as follows:

"Hereafter the postmaster-general may establish under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe one or more branch offices, not-accounting, for the transactions of any postoffice business which may be required for the convenience of the public." In a statement before the House committee explaining the operation of the proposed legislation first assistant postmaster-general, Daniel C. Roper, said:

"By making the county the unit and subsidiary to the main office situated at the county seat, the number of accounting offices would be reduced from 50,000 to 3,000. The county postmaster would be assisted by a clerk in charge, under his immediate supervision, at each subsidiary office."

Mr. Roper clearly stated in hearings before the committee that the legislation would abolish the present postmasters. Representative Madden of Illinois, was one of the members who asked questions and one of his questions was:

"This would put the postmaster-general in a position to appoint one postmaster in each county, would it not, and would put all other postoffices in the county as non-accounting offices, subject to his jurisdiction?"

Mr. Roper said that was so.

It is said that more than fifty members of the House have been in conference with the postmaster-general during the past week in regard to this item. The conferees have been at the request of the postmaster-general, who is insistent on the approval of the item.

There was a similar proposition once before when the postoffice department was reorganized.

PEARCE DIVORCE SUIT DISMISSED

Withdrawal of Complaint and Cross-Complaint Indicates Domestic Troubles Settled

MOORE CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Fails to Pay Stipulated Allowance to His Wife Who Divorced Him—Two Other Dismissals

The divorce suit of W. M. Pearce against Mrs. Mary Josephine Pearce was dismissed this morning and the costs paid. The action came as a surprise to court officials as it had been expected to be a hard fought case. Mr. Pearce first dismissed his complaint and then Mrs. Pearce dismissed the cross-complaint. It is understood that they have adjusted their domestic troubles.

William (Sorrell) Moore has been cited for contempt of court for failure to pay the stipulated allowance to his divorced wife, Emma Moore. He is to appear before Judge Sparks on April 8 and show cause why he should not be punished. Moore is said to be $125 behind with his payments of support money. The divorce was granted this term of court.

The estate of the late Benjamin Jackson is now well on the way to final settlement. The will was broken only Monday and today the court granted a partition and appointed L. P. Newby of Knightstown commissioner to make the sale. His bond was placed at $20,000. This suit was brought by Ida Dobbins et al, who were the parties to the will contest suit. By an agreement Mrs. Dobbins was allowed $1,600 on her claim filed against the estate amounting to $10,741.

The petition of Mrs. Geneva Gordon to mortgage real estate to pay debts was dismissed and the costs paid. The petition named Charles Bundy and others as defendants.

The case of Enoch H. Dobbins et al, against William Sharer on an account demanding $100 was dismissed and the costs paid.

IS HELD IN JAIL FOR TAKING $175.75

Ernest Eckstrom, Baldwin Piano Co., Agent, is Arrested on Affidavit Filed Here

HE HAS CHANCE TO PAY DEBT

Ernest Eckstrom, local representative of the Baldwin piano company, was arrested yesterday on an affidavit charging grand larceny. He is alleged to have taken $177.75 of the company's money. The affidavit was filed by Oliver T. Hereth of Indianapolis. Eckstrom, it is understood, admitted that he appropriated the money and asked for a chance to pay it back. He was arraigned before Squire Kratzer and his bond fixed at $300.

Eckstrom was unable to secure this amount and went to jail. He had not been given a hearing at a late hour today. The piano company is not anxious to prosecute if they can secure the money, it was stated. Eckstrom is said to have been in hard circumstances and used the money to pay debts.

Don Looney has recovered from an illness of the mumps.

Principal Officer of the City Describes How First Few Nights of Bombardment Were Spent in Cellars—Old Men and Women Found Hiding Under Their Homes, Unwilling to Leave.

Jean Grillon, subprefect of Verdun, has told this story of the battle that raged around that French city: "In mid-February the general commanding the army in the region of Verdun summoned me to his headquarters and said:

"An immense attack is going to be made in this region. Evacuate all the villages north of Verdun; we must prepare the battlefield."

"Preparing the battlefield means emptying villages and giving the populations new shelter and preparing quarters for the troops. Farm and home-lands were vacated and cattle taken away. Food stocks were remitted to the military commissariat.

"Then came the order to evacuate Verdun.

"Verdun is going to be a nest of bombs," the governor told me. I closed the schools and had all the sick removed to improvised hospitals several miles in the rear. Nevertheless, most of the citizens refused to quit the town. Arguments being useless, I had to forcibly expel them. Only those who have lived there can realize the sturdy Lorrainers' attachment for their homes.

The First Big Shell.

"Only 1,000 inhabitants remained when the first fifteen inch shell exploded in the city. I immediately sent out a bugler to sound the alarm, and every one went to the cellars. The best were those of the subprefecture, where for months past I had fortified shelters and stored lamps, medical dressings and foodstuffs. Here 400 persons took refuge.

"The first gust of shells lasted eight hours. During a lull I visited other cellars and discovered that there had been only one death, that of a woman who had imprudently rushed to the first floor of her home to save some papers and had been killed near a window.

"I ordered the evacuation to continue. We were unable to use our railroad depot, which was under fire. The people walked west or rode in vehicles of all kinds.

"Next day the shelling continued intermittently, several buildings collapsing. Happily, no person was wounded, the cellars of those remaining in Verdun being unaffected. Our greatest difficulty was to feed the people, but we managed to do it.

All Citizens Sent Away.

"Two nights later more than 100 fifteen inch shells fell in the city. At midnight I received a telephone message, 'Push out all the remaining civilians immediately and take all the municipal papers.'

"The police hurried about in the shell damaged streets, turning out the refractory people and shepherding them in places of safety beyond the town. Then a shell cut our telephone wires. The Germans next fired 'star shells,' which threw a brilliant light over the smoking ruins as we mobilized the civilians.

"What we found beneath some of these shattered houses was amazing. Sick and infirm old people and children wept bitterly as we hoisted them from the cellars into automobiles which rushed them to an outlying station. There, in default of proper train accommodations, we packed them in cattle cars and on open trucks.

"It was bitterly cold, and snow fell heavily. Several children died from exposure during the journey to Bar-le-Duc. A number of persons had wheeled their children to the station in perambulators, but these took up too much space, so we had to leave them behind. "Soon after the soldiers of a regiment marching by on their way to the firing line were amazed to see scores of these empty perambulators being blown about by the gusty winds."

2,000 SHIPS IDLE OR SUNK.

Total Tonnage of Those Lost or Interned Nearly 4,000,000.

The European war has taken from the seas more than 2,000 merchant vessels of nearly 4,000,000 tonnage, according to figures published by the department of commerce. Germany, with 600 vessels sunk, captured or detained, heads the list of losers.

Two hundred and twenty-five of the 500 British vessels lost were sunk by submarines. Great Britain's allies lost 167 ships. Austria lost 80 and Turkey 124. The total of neutral losses is put at 736, but most of these were released after being reported captured.

Ninety-two neutral vessels have been submarines and ninety-four sunk by mines. Twenty-three have been damaged by submarines and mines.

Prisoners to Erect Memorial. Prisoners of war in the concentration camp in Merseburg, Germany, have collected 900 marks ($225) for the erection of a monument to their comrades who have fallen in battle.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO AID IN WAR ON ALL MOSQUITOES

Million Insects in Jars Will Be Used to Educate Kiddies.

An army of more than a million mosquitoes will be raised by the New York health department as soon as possible and distributed, safely packed in glass jars, among the public schools of the city.

The plan is an important part of a campaign of education and extermination just beginning—education for the children, extermination for the mosquitoes.

The interstate mosquito commission held a busy meeting at the health department rooms. Representatives were there from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, with special delegates from Westchester and Long Island. Health Commissioner Emerson of New York announced the local campaign against mosquitoes will be carried on more vigorously than ever this year. All owners of buildings in which water is allowed to lodge in gutters, drains or elsewhere will be prosecuted criminally. It is clearly established mosquitoes breed in such patches of water.

"Every pupil in the public schools will be asked to study the structure, needs and habits of mosquitoes," said Dr. Baldwin, "so as to be able to recognize the dangerous kind at a glance and join in the war of extermination."

"If the public school children do all they can to help exterminate mosquitoes they will help to ward off a great deal of sickness and suffering. There are not so many malarial mosquitoes in New York, and a vigorous campaign will prevent the breeding of the pests in this city."

SAVED BY HIS PARACHUTE.

French Observer Dropped When Captive Balloon Was Cut Adrift.

The parachute, with which all observers in French captive balloons have now been provided, had a practical test recently near Clermont, in the Argonne region. German shells had cut the ropes holding one of the largest of these balloons, or "sausages," as they are called by the soldiers, on account of their shape.

It immediately rose to a height of 11,000 feet and drifted toward the German lines. The watchers below saw the observer get out of the basket and launch himself into space. After a sharp drop the parachute opened, and the observer reached the ground in safety, about 300 yards within the French line. The first sharp drop of about 150 feet, he said, was distinctly disagreeable, but after the parachute spread the descent was pleasant and was so gentle that during the twenty minutes which it lasted he had leisure to continue to take observations of the movements in progress beyond the German lines.

TOO HONEST TO SAVE FATHER

Woman Finds Missing $20 Under His Pillow and Sees Him Sent to Jail.

For the sake of honesty, Mrs. Myrtle Lee, nineteen years old, of Cleveland, sacrificed the freedom of her father, Peter McKinney.

Mrs. Anna Colfer, a neighbor, missed a purse containing $20. Mrs. Lee found the purse under her father's pillow when she made his bed.

"I feel it my duty to tell the truth," sobbed Mrs. Lee in court, "but please don't send my father to jail."

McKinney was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

FIRST OF "WAR SONGS" SOLDIERS ARE SINGING ON "WAY TO MEXICO."

Soldiers of Fort Sam Houston have a new war song. It is sung to the tune of "I'm on My Way to Mandalay," and the chorus of it is as follows: I've got to go to Mexico, For Fighting Freddie says it's so; I've got to fight with all my might, So the stars and stripes may blow. Look out, Villa, for I wouldn't be a yer when us boys see yer—that's why I've got to go to Mexico; I'm going to say goodbye. It was composed by a poet in the engineers.

Barnabus C. Hobbs (con)

(1815-1892)

In 1851 Barnabus C. Hobbs was called to the presidency of Bloomington Academy, where he served for sixteen years. His reputation was such that in 1866 the trustees of Earlham College (the outgrowth of the Friends boarding school) elected him as their first president. The same year Governor Morton named him as one of the trustees for the new state normal school. In 1868 Professor Hobbs was elected superintendent of public instruction. He made an appeal for the education of the negroes. Owing to the bitter factionalism in state politics during this period many of his constructive measures failed of adoption. When the national committee was organized in 1869 to inaugurate a scheme toward federal aid to education, Barnabus C. Hobbs was selected as chairman. The latter years of his life were devoted largely to furthering the cause of international arbitration and toward the education of the Indians. He died in Bloomington, June 22, 1893.

FAIL TO ENDORSE TOM T. TAGGART

Democratic County Chairmen of District Neglect to Adopt
Resolutions Presented

OLDER HEADS AGAINST IT

Richmond newspapers yesterday published a story that resolutions pledging the Democrats of the sixth district to support Thomas Taggart as a candidate for the short term in the United States senate were presented to the meeting of the district committee in Connersville Tuesday but that they were not adopted. The Richmond Item says that the older heads of the party in the district counseled that it would be "bad policies" and would not give the committee a chance to endorse Governor Ralston in case he becomes a candidate in place of Taggart, who has already said he will not run.

Edwin Corr of Bloomington, former assistant attorney general, was at the meeting in the interest of his candidacy for the supreme court, judgeship made vacant by Judge Shea's resignation to become ambassador to Chile.

William A. Yarling was indorsed for lieutenant governor. Delegates from the Sixth district to the national convention were not mentioned and the district organization will make no attempt to dictate their selection, leaving this to the state convention to determine.

Federal Inspection.

J. Chas. Linthicum, representative in congress from the fourth Maryland district, has introduced a resolution in the house calling for the federal inspection of dairies. If dairy inspection is worthy the effort of many states and many municipalities, it must be worthy the larger effort of the federal government; especially in view of the statement in the preamble of Linthicum's resolution that the United States bureau of animal industry has reported ninety-four and five-tenths per cent of the creameries of the country are insanitary to a greater or less degree.

Dairy products are probably the most widely used of any human food and are more easily infected with disease germs than the average food. There is a growing sense of alarm in many quarters among consumers because of the dangers that lie hidden in milk and its by-products.

When taxes are paid upon imports the foreign producer takes that much less for his product and the importer pays the tax. It really comes out of the pocket of the foreigner, except in the case of commodities not produced in this country. Democrats claimed, falsely, that the American consumer pays the tax, but the failure to reduce the cost of living, when the tariff was taken off, disproves this theory. In the case of a stamp tax such as we are now paying, we know absolutely that the American pays it. People who don't like stamp taxes can have the import duties restored, if they vote for candidates who believe in that form of revenue.

One apologist for President Wilson expresses the opinion that he will be benefited rather than injured by the failure of some of the measures he is so deeply interested in getting through Congress. What a strange estimate of the intelligence of the American voter! The President is to be commended because he fails in his efforts to pass unwise laws! More likely the commendation will go to the men who help defeat the measures, for that is where the approval should be given.

Representative Fitzgerald, Democratic Chairman of the House Committee on appropriations condemned the last Congress for extravagance and is condemning this for slowness and general inefficiency. Senator Newlands, also a Democrat, attributed the industrial depression of 1913-14 to the unwise legislation of the Democratic party. Several Democratic Congressmen, apparently entertaining similar views, have announced that they will not be candidates for re-election. When Democratic leaders condemn the party how can the average voter be expected to support it?

President Wilson's assertion that the Republican party has not had a new idea in thirty years makes interesting reading in view of the ideas he has thrown away in the last few months in order to take up Republican ideas in their stead.

(By United Press.)
El Paso, Tex., April 6.—A lean figure in khaki stalked into the lobby of Sheldon hotel tonight and sank into a seat. He wore the double bars of a captain. He had the look of a boy who has been denied something he has put his soul into longing for.

The captain's air attracted the attention of a newspaperman. The latter bore down on the officer and greeted him with:

"You didn't go in, captain?" The officer's features twisted as though from actual physical pain.

"I'm not going," he said slowly. He tried to smile, but it was a sorry attempt. "I'm on the sick list," he hurried on, releasing his pent-up protest against the break of luck in a torrent of words. "I've been in the hospital 55 days. Just got out. Got to go to Hot Springs. Abdominal trouble."

"Been waiting for this chance three years. Just as the opportunity arrives, I'm invalidated. Got to play baby while the rest of the fellows are having the fun. It's—it's hell! That's what it is. I—"He broke off abruptly, startled at his own unwanted volubility.

"Guess I've said enough," he growled. The officer was Captain Babcock of the Thirteenth infantry.

ONCE WEALTHY; NOW SEE WORK

Hundreds of Former Mexican Aristocrats Walk Streets Begging For Something to Do.

WERE DRIVEN FROM HOME

Two Classes of Refugees in San Antonio—Total of 12,000 in State of Texas

(By United Press.)
San Antonio, Tex., April 6.—Hundreds of once wealthy Mexican aristocrats walk the streets of San Antonio today, pitifully eager for any kind of work, at any wage they can get.

These men, women and children are divided into two classes; the shabby-genteel and the ragged. All of them were driven from broad acres and lives of luxury by sentences of death that today still await their return to seething Mexico. They prefer to stay here and be poor.

Other hundreds—there are about 6,000 Mexican refugees here—were fortunate enough to bring gold with them when they fled from the land of too much trouble. They live in great style; and there are fashionable shops and exclusive places to live here, that are supported largely by them.

Most of these refugees, proud of their pure Castilian blood, new to poverty and its humiliations, sensitive to charity, will accept any employment to keep from becoming public or private charges.

A copy boy on one of the local American newspapers here, earning $6.00 per week, was, until the fall of Huerta, the petted son of a Mexican family of Tamaulipas whose boast was that their ranch was a day's horseback ride in length and breadth.

Among this number are several hundred Catholic priests and other dignitaries of the church. Many of these exiles have been deprived of their estates through some whirl or the other of the rapidly revolving wheel of Mexican fortune.

Residents tell of highly educated graduates of Chapultepec Military Academy, the West Point of Mexico, former captains, majors and even Diaz, who fled the country with him at his fall and who have refused to ally themselves with either Carranza or Villa, working as saloon porters, dish washers and irrigation ditch hands for a livelihood.

These are the so called "reactionary" Mexicans, the tattered remnants of the once haughty and wealthy Cientifico class, whose control over Mexico was as absolute as was that of Louis Sixteenth before the fall of the Bastille. The Bastille fell for Louis and Diaz died in a foreign land.

In San Antonio today the refugees of the old regime have only the uncertain fortunes of Felix Diaz to pin their hopes of "return" upon.

What London was to the aristocratic emigre of the French Revolution, San Antonio is to the banished aristocrat of Mexico. Today the best blood of the old regime is making San Antonio its home.

Here the best of Mexican doctors, lawyers, professional men, former cabinet officers, ex-governors of Mexican states, one time ministers to foreign courts, landed proprietors of vast estates, are living. There are about 12,000 Mexican refugees in Texas.

At San Antonio Rival Juntas of Villa and Carranza Forces Have Intrigued For Years.

PROMINENT MEXICANS THERE

Many Former Cabinet Ministers and Other High Officials Watch Chase For Villa.

San Antonio, April 6.—For the last three years San Antonio has been the unofficial capital of Mexico. There the rival juntas of the Carranza and Villa forces have plotted and intrigued. From Antonio most of financial aid so desperately needed by both sides at various times in the ups and downs of their fortunes has been negotiated and from here munitions have been bought and supplies forwarded.

Today there are over fifteen hundred prominent and formerly wealthy Mexicans living in San Antonio. Every one of them is vitally interested in the success of either Carranza or Villa. Many of them are men who in the last few years have held the highest official positions in one or the other of the shifting governments that have held temporary sway over the southern republic or parts of it.

Four cabinet ministers of the old Huerta regime, the most prominent being Manuel Garza Aldape, ex-minister of agriculture and Richard Gomez Robelo, attorney general for Huerta and the man who guided the old Indian warrior in the tortuous legal phases of his conflict with President Wilson.

Closely associated with them is Salome Botella, ex-governor of the state of Nuevo Leon under Huerta. This group is now reputed to be interested in Villa's campaign.

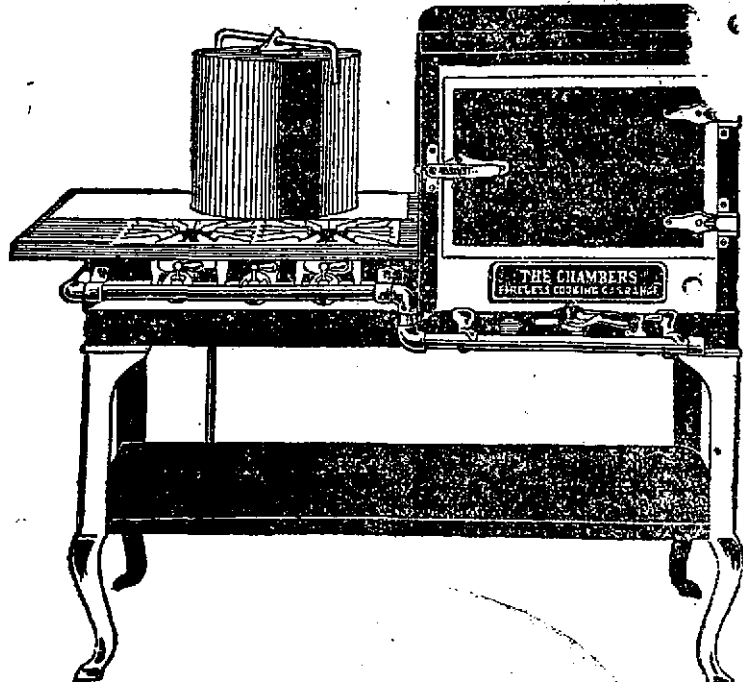

The Mexican Catholic church is represented by four archbishops and about thirty bishops who have been driven out of Mexico by the various warring factions. With them are a large number of priests who also were compelled to flee from the country.

Then there is a sprinkling of adherents of the ebullient Felix Diaz, who has a revolution ripe for picking if he can secure support; and also there are some supporters of Zapata.

The interests of Carranza are officially administered by Teodilo R. Beltran, Mexican consul general for the south western United States.

Connected with his office in an unofficial but very important capacity is Sam Belden, a San Antonio attorney, who has a title of chief advisor of the consulate. Belden is reputed to be close to Carranza and one of the men who in dealings with the United States government the First Chief is first to turn to for service.

There are seven Mexican newspapers published in San Antonio to serve the needs of the forty odd thousand native Mexicans who live in and about the city. All are bitterly partisan in backing their factional interests and several have very fair circulation.

Amusements

The Princess will show a three act drama "Destiny" for the first picture of the program tonight. Ruth Stonchouse and Bryant Washburn are featured. It is said to tell a fine story and is true to life. The other picture is a comedy "Too Clever by Half." Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew are featured in this one. An especially strong company has been organized to support Laura Hope Crews in the picturization of "The Fighting Chance," to be seen at the Princess tomorrow under the direction of Jesse L. Lasky and David Belasco. The company included Theodore Roberts, Cleo Ridgely, George Gebhardt and Florence Smythe. It tells the story of a heroine's woman's struggle to believe in her husband, who has been convicted for robbing a bank. With all the evidence against him she still holds to her faith in his innocence until she is finally confronted by the "other woman" for whom the crime was committed.

The Gem offers the big feature "The Wolf-Man" for the first picture tonight. Miss Billie West is featured. It is said to be a fine production and one that is sure to please. The other picture is a comedy entitled "Leave it to Cissy." Cissy Fitzgerald is featured. Tomorrow the three act drama "The She Devil" will be shown in which Gladys Brockwell and Constance Talmadge are featured.

The Mystic will show the usual four reels tonight. The first is a three act drama "The Lighthouse by the Sea." Darwin Karr is featured and it is said to be a thrilling sea drama. The other picture is a comedy-drama "An Auction Sale of Run Down Ranch." Tomorrow the two act drama "The Man on the Watch" and the two other good pictures will be shown.

The current issue of Munsey's Magazine refers to "Town Topics," the big Winter Garden revue, as a "veritable whale of a show" and that is just what it is—a monster among musical comedy productions, and the claim that it is the largest entertainment of its kind ever to leave New York is no exaggeration. When it was produced there, it was proclaimed the most gorgeous production of its kind the American stage has ever seen, and this was true. No less than $150,000 was expended in making this the most elaborate and costly musical show ever devised, but money was not alone spent on the scenery and costumes, but in gathering together a cast of high salaried principals, and a highly trained chorus of singers and dancers, and it is this company, practically intact, which comes to the Shubert Murat Theatre April 11, 12 and 13th, with matinee Wednesday. It will require no less than six baggage cars to transport the scenery to this city. There are twenty scenes, twelve of which are massive—larger than anything hitherto attempted—including a subway car in motion and filled with passengers; the Polo Grounds in New York with the grand stand filled with fans, and a baseball game with scores of participants including forty pretty girls; a scene behind the stage of a theatre during a benefit performance; the launching of the ship of peace; a Mississippi River levee with steamboats passing and docking, which is suddenly transformed into a cotton plantation; a fashion display in which forty girl mannequins display gowns costing over $30,000; a dancing pavilion and Indian village, and so many more novelties that one can scarce enumerate them. The cast includes the irresistible Trixie Friganza; the King of Slang, Bert Leslie; Wellington Cross and Louis Josephine, best of all singing and dancing couples; Marie Lavarre, Queen of singing soubrettes; Mabel Elaine, the living embodiment of Mrs. Stowe's Topsy; the Carbreys Brothers, in their famous Siamese dance; Artie Mehlinger, the singing juvenile, Gilbert Gregory as the funny Sheriff; Peter Page, as the dancing master and baseball mump; John Johnson and Jimmy Fox.

Tickets for this attraction may be purchased through the Shubert Murat local representative, Hargrove & Mullin, druggists.

FALL SESSION, INDIANAPOLIS

The spring meeting of the Indiana Presbytery of the United Presbyterian church closed late yesterday afternoon with the election of year-term officers and the selection of the place for the fall meeting. The conference at the afternoon session between the ministers also brought up many interesting topics for discussion.

The following year-term officers were elected: financial agent, E. K. Marquis of Indianapolis; superintendent of missions, Dr. Morris Watson of Princeton, Ind.; superintendent of Sabbath school, the Rev. J. H. McCann of Mays; superintendent of young Peoples' work, the Rev. Willard Wylie of Milroy. The clerk, the Rev. Mr. Brown, is elected for four years, and a new moderator is selected every six months. The Rev. Frederick Elliott of Springfield was elected to that office yesterday morning.

The examination was originally scheduled to be held in the court house but this will probably be changed to the Graham school.

WAR ON SKEETER.

Elizabeth, N. J., April 6.—"How To Annihilate A Jersey Mosquito" is not, but might as well be, the title of the course of instruction in "skeeter murder" now ready for the first classes of boys and girls at school here Monday morning. The Jersey "skeeter" long has been known for its size and ferocity and so pestiferous has his "skeetership" become that the Mosquito Extermination Commission, unique as an organization, has determined that, with the aid of the children, the singing scourge shall be stamped out.

Some Good News Reaches The Kids

Castor Oil Ideas Are up—And Going Higher

The war in Europe has brought rejoicing to the quarter at least.

Castor oil prices are steadily advancing, along with the prices of other chemicals and further advances are promised.

The medical profession never has discovered a substitute which had the healing properties of good old fashioned castor oil, and millions of gallons are used every year in the treatment of disorders of the stomach and intestines.

The unpleasant taste—the only drawback to the universal use of castor oil by both children and adults—has been overcome by a preparation called CASTOR-JELL, 94 per cent pure castor oil whipped into jellied form and flavored with orange, which may be had at the same prices that were fixed before the recent sharp advances in castor oil. On sale at Hargrove & Mullin's drug store, demonstration now going on. Castor Products Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

FOR BAZAAR

"Bazaar" seems to be in the air, for the members of practically all the churches are busy planning and stitching away for sales and bazaars of all kinds. Each society has, of course, in view mercenary aspirations. Last evening Miss Ella Stewart entertained the ladies of the Aid society of the First Baptist church who spent an industrious evening together. The good time and amount accomplished were encouraging rewards for them.

WITH MISS STIERS

The members of the Tuesday Afternoon Embroidery Club spent a pleasant afternoon together on Tuesday when they were the guests of Miss Chestina Stiers. CHICKEN DINNER

The chicken dinner served by the ladies of the W. R. C. in the P. O. S. of A. hall yesterday, lived up to the reputation that they have already established as culinary artists. At two o'clock, the quilt each block of which had been embroidered by a member of the order, was given to Mrs. Charles C. Brown. Twenty-eight dollars and twenty cents were cleared off of the quilt.

CARD PARTY

Three extra tables of players were entertained this afternoon when the Thursday Bridge Club met with Miss Chestina Stiers and Mrs. Wilbur Stiers at the home of the former in East Sixth street. Pink roses were prettily used in the decorations which made a pretty setting for the players. A delightful luncheon was served at the close of the card games to the twenty guests.

CALLING MEETING OF D. A. R.

Mrs. Will Dill, regent of the Rushville chapter requests the Daughters to meet with Mrs. D. D. Van Osdel at 212 West Third street, Friday afternoon April 7th, to arrange a campaign for selling Belgian flags Saturday, April 8th. We are requested and urged to do this work by our president-general, Mrs. Will Comming Story, who is working in connection with a commission for the relief in behalf of the Belgians.

RED MEN SUPPER

After the degree work last evening when nine candidates were taken into the order at Falmouth by the Rushville team, the guests enjoyed a two course supper. It was a delicious one, and with the music that was furnished during the service, was greatly enjoyed by the guests who numbered about a hundred and fifty. Guests from Rushville, Mays and Raleigh were present at the gathering.

MODERN ART CLUB

Mrs. Harry McAuley was hostess for the members of the Modern Art Club this afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Retherford. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess as the afternoon, which had been an interesting one with fancy work and chatting, drew to a close.

NEW CLUB

One of the first meetings of a club which has lately been organized here was held with Mrs. Will Dill at her home in North Morgan street. Rook, several lively games of it, amused the guests who later enjoyed a tempting salad course. In this "Cousins Club," are Mrs. H. V. Logan, Mrs.

Hattie Zimmer, Miss Zora Carney, Mrs. Leonard Alsop, Mrs. George Alexander, Mrs. Dora Wood, Mrs. Will Dill, and Mrs. Sarah Guffin.

AT THE HINCHMAN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinchman entertained a large number of their friends at their home on Saturday evening, when games, contests, and music on the violin and piano helped in the gaiety of the event. A dainty luncheon was served near the close of the evening. The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hinchman were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Daubenspeck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jarret and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Austen and daughter, Beatrice, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Austen, Mr. and Mrs. Lige Billings, Mr. and Mrs. William Hinchman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daubenspeck and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Will Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hinchman, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ertle and sons, William and Wayne, Miss Myrtie Gustine, Miss Millie Vandament, Omer Bowles and George Strait.

BELGIAN RELIEF

Seven cents will feed one Belgian for one day, and this is the sum being asked by the members of the D. A. R. for the small Belgian flags they are selling on which are printed the words "Let us highly resolve that this people shall not perish from the earth." The proceeds from this sale, in which the 100,000 members of the D. A. R. in this country are lending their aid by trying to sell one hundred flags apiece, will go directly to the aid of the starving Belgians. Saturday, the birthday of the late Belgian king, an especial effort will be made to induce a large sale. In response to the suggestion of the members of the D. A. R. to take up this work, a cablegram was sent to them by the Belgian Queen stating "To all who will wear the Belgian flag on April 8th and 9th, I send in the name of the Belgian mothers my heartfelt thanks."

SEXTON C. W. B. M.

One of the most profitable meetings of the year for the Sexton C. W. B. M. was the one held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mike Mullins. About a dozen members responded to the roll call and four visitors were present. The numbers of the program were:

Hymn.
Scripture reading and prayer by leader, Mrs. Grace Winkler.

HOW TO SELL THINGS THAT ARE "FOR SALE"

Write your "For Sale" ad SIMPLY stating every detail about the article that you would want an ad to give if you were anxious to buy something of the kind yourself. Give a little thought to the "selling points" about the article, and put THEM into your ad. Then run the ad MORE THAN ONCE, if that is necessary. It may or may not be.

SIDNEY W. LANDON.

If the Lyceum committee were able to announce that dear old Mark Twain would fill a lecture engagement here or that Bill Nye, of cherished memory, would raise his querulous voice in our midst every business place in town would close, farmers would lock up their houses and barns, and industries would suspend to do him honor. So with a host of departed men of genius whose works are cherished by their fellow countrymen. In preparing his entertainment, "Speaking Likenesses of Great Men," Sidney Landon has performed a noteworthy service to the American platform and to the people of the country. Through Mr. Landon's interpretative art men like Twain, Nye, Longfellow, Holmes, Robert E. Lee, Edgar Allan Poe and countless others live again. By the use of wigs and grease paint he gives his audiences visualization and impersonation of these men which are startling in their approach to nature. He completely loses his own personality, submerging self in the great character he portrays, and so complete is the illusion that the audience feels that Landon has indeed vanished and the man he impersonates is present. So, while the Lyceum committee is unable to announce the actual presence of any of these departed great, there is real enthusiasm awakened by the fact that Sidney Landon is to be here and that our people are to be given an opportunity of making the acquaintance of "Speaking Likenesses of Great Men."

TO ORGANIZE BIRTH CONTROL

Woman Freed in Federal Court Will Tour Country in Interests of Campaign.

FIRST PLACE IS CHICAGO

Holds up Europe as Example to be Followed in This Country —Wants Laws Changed.

(By United Press.)

New York, April 6.—Freed of the charge, in Uncle Sam's federal indictment, that she sent vile and obscene matter through the mails in her birth control propaganda magazine, "The Woman Rebel," Mrs. Margaret Sanger left here today to visit and organize birth control societies among the women of all the larger cities in the United States.

Mrs. Sanger is on her way to Chicago, where she will conduct meetings of women, make speeches about birth control and organize a society of women to perpetuate birth control propaganda after she has gone on to other places. Mrs. Sanger will travel west to the coast cities and then east again by another route.

Mrs. Sanger hopes, by stirring up the interest of American wives and mothers, to make their influence cause the repeal of state and federal laws prohibiting the dissemination of birth control information.

In cities where there are no restrictions of this kind Mrs. Sanger hopes to establish clinics, similar to birth control clinics in European cities, where women of the working districts can apply for instruction in birth control. In addition to nurses who can instruct in birth control, these clinics will have a staff that will teach the care of infants.

Mrs. Sanger said before she departed today that no legislative power in the world can keep the women of America from learning and practicing birth control.

"Because," she added, "it is the logical and sensible and humane thing to do, law or no law.

"No woman should be compelled to bring a baby into the world unless she is physically fitted to properly endow the child with a good brain and body; and unless she is blessed with the resources to rear and educate the child and give it a fair chance to make its way in the world.

"That is what birth control knowledge is for: to show women under what conditions it is best for them to bear children.

"Birth control does not necessarily make for either larger or smaller families; it simply insures, through the mother's knowledge, a square deal and a fair chance for whatever children are born.

"In Europe, birth control is sanctioned by the governments.

"In the United States it is blindly condemned by law; laws that are lauded by certain influential and prominent citizens who secretly practice birth control while publicly denouncing it."

Mrs. Sanger was indicted by the United States court here in January for alleged indecent birth control propaganda statements in her magazine. New York society women, led by such well known individuals as Miss Fola LaFollette and others, accompanied Mrs. Sanger to court when she went to plead to the indictment; then afterwards caused the case to be given wide publicity.

The government dismissed the indictment against Mrs. Sanger before the case came to trial.

VERDUN HERO IS PLAIN SOLDIER

General Petain, The Defender of That Sector, Climbs Trees Just Same as Men in Ranks

SKIPS ROPE FOR EXERCISE

Believes Men Are Best Qualified Who Can Stand Rough Treatment And Hard Work

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, March 10.—(By Mail)—General Petain, the defender of Verdun and now in supreme command in that sector, after rising from a Colonelship in 19 months, thinks no more of climbing trees, sleeping in a hayloft or wading through ice cold water than he does of eating breakfast in the morning.

The latest hero of the French army refused to be a hero. He insists upon remaining a plain soldier. He usually makes his headquarters in one of the poorest houses of a war-zone village and instead of the usual flag, sentries and buzzing motor-cars about his front door he stations a couple of men in citizen's clothes to keep off visitors, and lets it go at that.

Though 59 years old, he skips the rope 10 minutes every morning before breakfast. A shave and bath add to his appetite and so his day gets off with a flying start. He is willing himself to do anything he asks the humblest private in his command to do. If manœuvres in the rain and mud are necessary, he often puts himself at the head of some company and walks with them bare-headed and minus waterproofs.

Officers desiring a place on his staff can't have the job simply because they are chic; they must be able to do rough service, ride a bicycle, run a mile in record time, eat plain food and work any and all sorts of hours.

One of the General's favorite ways of taking observations is to climb to the top of some high tree and see for himself what is going on. He can get to the top of such a tree quicker than any men on his staff. He watched the Verdun fighting in an armored motor car in which he dashed up and down the lines. He has had 17 chauffeurs in two months. He goes so fast he wears them out in a day or so.

Philippe Petain was born April 24, 1856 at Cauchy-la-Tour, Department of the Pas-de-Calais, or near the English Channel. His career was not brilliant, though he was an honor man of his class at the War College, for he was not made a Colonel until he was 55 years of age. This was his grade when the war came on and brought to light his real military value.

Thirty days after hostilities began he was brigadier general and three days more saw him acting general of division, to which grade he was advanced a few days later. The three stars of a corps commander were given him Oct. 25 when he went to the head of the 33rd which was to cover itself with glory at Carnoy, Notre-Dame-de-Lorette and Abbeville, in Artois.

In April, 1915, he was acting commander of the Second Army and in June the title became permanent. He was one of the main springs in the Champagne fighting.

General Petain, soon to be 60 years old, a colonel less than two years ago, has won his way considerably on merit. He has never had a "pull," as proved by the fact that when the war began he was on the point of retiring from the army with a low rank for a Continental army man.

Oldest Soldier In Actual Service Is Ready To Join In Villa Chase

(By United Press.)
Columbus, O., April 6.—The United States Barracks here has the oldest soldier in active service in the United States army. He is Otis C. West, 66, a private, who works in the Barracks store room, but is ready to join the Villa chase.

"I'm no spring chicken, but if Uncle Sam wants any old fellow with a lot of pep and who knows the fighting game, to go after Villa, he sure can count on me," West said today.

Having reared a family and closed a busy civilian career which ran all the way from farming to college and politics, West through special permission of Adjutant General Corbin enlisted in the army when he was 51 years old.

A private has to serve 30 years before he is retired on a pension, West has served 15 years, five of which were in the Philippines, and he says he's going to serve out the other 15.

"During my entire army service I have never killed a man, but I've had some exciting experiences. When I was a kid of 6 in Cedar Falls, Iowa, near Spirit Lake, I was in the midst of a Sioux Indian massacre. I remember how the Indians shut us up in the village and how scared we all were.

"Do I remember the Civil War? I remember what a licking my dad gave me when I ran away from home at the age of 14 to join the Union forces. I didn't get very far. I was caught.

"I was at Ft. Brown, Texas, in the third battery, 26th Infantry in 1905 when the 25th Infantry of colored troops had an uprising and President Roosevelt discharged the whole company."

In 1876, West taught commercial law at Oberlin university. In 1877 he became constable at Des Moines, and later was elected city assessor. On McKinley's second call for volunteers he joined the Third Nebraska Volunteers and served under Colonel Bryan at Cuba. A year later he joined the army, went to the Philippines and then to Ft. Wayne, Michigan, where he was promoted to quarter master sergeant of Company B, 26th Infantry.

Because of the expiration of his time West was discharged in 1913, came to Columbus and re-enlisted as a private at the age of 63 years.

TO ADD TO WORK OF POSTMASTER

partment wanted to get rid of assistant postmasters by abolishing the office. Congress would not stand for it and it is believed by many that the firm attitude shown on that proposed measure will be repeated in the House on the present proposition.

It is anticipated that there will be a general and sweeping opposition to the measure from local communities that will lose their postmasters and become sub-stations if the legislation goes through Congress.

DR. SEXTON TALK TO THE HIGH SCHOOL

Rushville Physician Says Education, Honesty and Ambition Are Necessary in Medicine.

SERIES VOCATIONAL TALKS

One of the most popular speakers who has addressed the local high school in the series of vocational talks was Dr. J. C. Sexton who spoke yesterday on the study of medicine. The applause of students and teachers was very hearty. With apt illustrations he brought out the points necessary for one to have to become a physician. Genius, he said, is not always apparent at first, but the profession demands several things, among the most important of which are education, honesty, and ambition. He then gave some interesting facts about the practice of medicine, bringing them out with clever stories. Dr. Sexton was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. D. C. Green, who having been a former student in the high school was universally welcomed.

The next of the vocational talks which have proved interesting and profitable to the students will probably be by the Rev. C. M. Yocum on the ministry.

INFANT DEATH RATE FALLS OFF

S. S. McClure, American Magazine Man, Makes Startling Discovery Regarding Germany.

INVESTIGATED THE SUBJECT

Says it is Astonishing What Has Been Done Towards Saving the Babies' Lives.

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Berlin, (via Amsterdam), April 6.—Germany's infant death rate has not increased, as was supposed in Germany's neighbor countries. On the contrary, it has fallen off materially. Also, Germany's general health is better. S. S. McClure, the American newspaper and magazine man, has been investigating the matter and these are his conclusions:

Every belligerent country wants all the babies it can get, to make up for losses in battle. There was talk in Germany recently of offering a premium for babies. This has been accomplished, he explains, by doubling the mothers' "maternity wages" and by discovery that by the addition of vegetables, apple sauce and oatmeal to the babies' diet and the reduction of their allowance of milk, at the age of five months, the infants' health benefits so greatly that far fewer of them die than heretofore. The American's inquiry has covered both Germany and Belgium. "It is astonishing," he says, "what has been done toward saving the babies' lives. There seems to have been no difficulty in getting them born. The problem has been how to keep them alive afterward.

"Formerly many people were too poor to buy milk. Now, both in Germany and Belgium, it is obligatory to make an allowance of one litre daily to each mother.

"Soldiers' wives each receive a 20-cent daily cash allowance. Eight weeks before the birth of a child this allowance is increased 50 per cent, and after the child has been born there is an additional 50 per cent. increase if the infant is nursed.

"Berlin's normal milk supply is 1,000,000 litres daily. Today two-thirds as much as this is available. In Berlin alone there are 10,000 cows. Their milk goes to the babies.

"The doctors take such excellent care of mothers that the infant death rate has slumped from 19 to 100—the pre-war rate—to 11 per 100, at present.

"Illness among school children has shown a heavy decrease. Insurance companies report less illness among the people generally than before the war.

"The meatless days and the absence of luxurious foods are simply making a healthier people. It is marvelous. I have been to Brussels, I have seen Brand Whitehead, Gen. von Bissing and others and I learn that infectious disease is almost unknown in Belgium. There has been a tremendous decrease in the number of tuberculosis cases.

"Ninety-seven per cent of the Belgian communes show a lower death rate than ever before. The explanation is that the people eat less meat, and furthermore the supervision of the milk supply makes it possible for everyone who needs it to obtain it in adequate quantities.

"Therefore, why a premium on babies?"

General Pershing Proves To Be Great Little Interviewer Himself

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., April 6.—If General Pershing and his flying column should capture Francisco Villa today and Villa should ask the General what he was going to do with him, Pershing probably would, probably, counter with.

"Well, Villa, what do you think about it?"

For Pershing, as newspaper men had ample opportunity to learn when he was here, is not a communicative man.

Before you could see General Pershing, you had to warm an already over-heated chair in an outer office.

Major Hines, post adjutant, who had a desk in the same room would get a long distance call over the phone. He'd bawl to an orderly, not significantly at you, and the orderly politely would shove you back into the hall. You felt like the frog in the well that jumped one foot and fell back two.

Finally you were ushered into the presence of the man who is leading the American expedition into Mexico. Pershing has a very good memory for faces and names and correctly tags you when you greet him.

"Well, general, when you going in?"

"Haven't the least idea, what's the latest from Washington?"

"War department isn't giving out much. San Antonio, says you're to have charge, though."

"Your information pretty reliable?"

"Sure. How long is it going to take you to catch Villa?"

"What do you think about it?"

"I'll swap opinions with you. Six months."

"Ahem."

"Where was that bunch of the Sixteenth bound for?"

"West."

"Whereabouts?"

The general evidently is a close student of the European war.

"Somewhere in New Mexico," he grins.

The phone rings. The general nods toward the door. You've got that motion down pat now, so you beat it.

On the way out you tackle Major Hines, Captain Godson and everybody else wearing leather leggings (the infallible insignia of an officer.) They're about as full of news as a recipe book.

After doing the rounds of the government offices and other sources of information you go back to Fort Bliss and start all over again. About the third time you become so proficient in "questions and answers" that you can beat the "interviewer" to it every time.

An American correspondent on the border right now has about the same status as a Villista spy.

SAM AND CUPID IN PARTNERSHIP

Through Department of Agriculture
They Announce Invention of
of "Scientific" Cottage.

CHANGE FOR JUNE BRIDES

House Has Four Primary Features

And is Arranged to Save
Bride Many Steps.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 6.—Uncle Sam and Dan Cupid today signed articles of incorporation as The Love in a Cottage & First Aid to Cupid Company, unlimited. Through their chief architect at the Department of Agriculture, Sam & Cupid today announced the invention of "a perfect love of a vine-clad cottage economically and scientifically made."

Any sweet June bride may receive copy of the "Dove Cote" plans by writing to Sam & Cupid, care of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

First of all, this darling little duck of a house is so ingeniously arranged that it will save the bride 182,500 steps a year. There are, besides the wonderful patent kitchen, a dining room, living room and two bedrooms; a front porch and a large sleeping porch.

And if you don't happen to be a June bride, you may have a copy of the plans just the same, by asking for them.

Everything has been figured out. With the arrangements made by the architect, the housewife can go in to the kitchen in the morning and need come out only for meals, if that's the way she feels about it.

The poison-gas menace from cooking cabbage, the heat prostration danger from overheated stoves, that tired feeling that results from too many steps between the kitchen and the dining room all have been attended to.

The house has four primary features: a cool, convenient kitchen and dining room; bedrooms and living rooms with the best exposure; facilities for outdoor sleeping, and an easily heated house, cool in summer and sunny in winter.

The kitchen's principal feature is the cooking room, just large enough to accommodate a stove. When the door of the room is closed, the cabbage may boil or the ham burn up and no odor will penetrate to the kitchen proper. The housewife need not stay in the room with the stove; in fact, she couldn't get in if she wanted to.

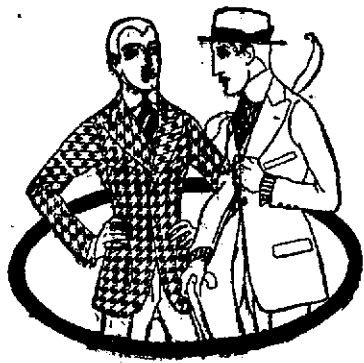

Windows are so arranged that there is always a breeze through the kitchen. The front porch is arranged so it can't exclude any sunlight. The sleeping porch is germproof and airy. The kitchen and dining room are so convenient that it is unnecessary to carry dishes between them—they can be pushed right through the wall. The china closet has doors in both rooms and dishes are laid in at one door and taken out of another in the next room.

In addition to the front and sleeping porches there is a screened porch reached from the kitchen. A feature disclosed by an examination of the screened porch, by the way, is a fuel room. Fuel is poured into it from the back yard—it may be dumped right from a wagon into the room—and, like the trick china closet, permits being emptied from another entrance in the kitchen.

There are seven closets in the house, which is only one story. The nearest approach to a second story is where a window has been described. That window gives exit to the smoke and smells from the cooking room, with which it and an inside chimney connect.

Women Will Have More to Say About Running the Country Following the War.

MAKE GOOD DURING CRISIS

Everywhere in Great Britain They Are Doing Work of Men—Will Outnumber Men.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, April 6.—Women will have a great deal to say about running England after the war. If they get the vote they will rule England's electorate, as there were 1,000,000 more British women than men before the war.

The suffragettes abandoned militant tactics when fighting began with the Germans, but they have been conducting an educational campaign ever since.

Its keynote has been the thorough advertisement of the extent to which women have taken the places of men at the front. Since women can do men's work, the suffragists argue, why weren't they entitled to the franchise on the same footing with men?

There is no theory about this proposition. It is practical. The women actually are doing work it used to be taken for granted only men satisfactorily could do. In a good many instances, it is conceded, they are doing it better than the men did. The country, too, is mighty glad to get them. It is begging for their help.

Munition making is largely in women's hands. Women are rapidly taking over the positions of the men street car and bus conductors.

Women are running elevators. Women are acting as ticket sellers and choppers.

A woman's army is being recruited to do England's farming. Women clerks are behind the counters of the retail stores of all kinds.

Women chauffeurs are numerous. Women run delivery wagons.

Women are doing all sorts of clerical work in banks, wholesale houses, insurance offices and counting rooms generally.

This drafting of women has been far more general on the European continent than in England. On the continent, however, there has been no such corresponding effort on the women's part to get value received for their wartime help, in the form of subsequent political concessions.

After all women have during the war, it is hard to see how England can refuse what they demand later. At any rate, it is a safe conclusion that they will get a respectful hearing when they present their claims next time, instead of the contemptuous dismissal which efforts met before the great European struggle.

Comment by the new women workers, too, shows that suffragette representations are making an impression on the rank and file.

The next demand, consequently, will be no mere dilatory movement. Instead, it will come from the women who have done as much as any man in the fields to aid the country in an emergency, whose services and sacrifices already have been publicly recognized and who can speak, and act, with a genuine determination never hitherto characteristic of suffragetteism in England.

If they fail to get what they want, get it, England will be ruled, elected it will be surprising. Should they totally, by women.

Census figures show that, before the war, there were about 1,000,000 more women than men in the British Isles.

After the war, between the losses of men in the field and the expected heavy emigration, which will be largely of young, unmarried men, the disproportion will be still larger—perhaps another 1,000,000.

WOMEN TAKE PLACE OF MEN IN GERMANY

War Has Developed Expert Traveling Saleswomen—Doing Exceptionally Well.

EVEN WORKING IN FIELDS

(By United Press.)

Leipzig, April 6.—Dr. Wendland, Chief Counsel to the Leipzig Chamber of Commerce, the most important Commercial body in Germany, today said:

"Women have taken the places of men in every line. Most of our employees in the Chamber of Commerce are women and it is amazing how well they take hold. Every store and every office has its women assistants today who do the work the men in the field used to do."

"But what the firms doing for expert salesmen?" it was asked.

"Women now are the sales experts," he said. "This is the day of woman. Expert saleswomen are the product of this war."

"But what are you going to do after the war when the men return from the front?"

"There will not be much competition then," he replied. "Our losses have been such that many of the women who work today will be needed in their same positions after this war."

DON'T NEGLECT KIDNEYS

Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Prescription, Overcomes Kidney Trouble

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

The kidneys should receive some assistance when needed. We take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying, brickdust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, maybe weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. There is nothing else like it. It is Dr. Kilmer's prescription used in private practice and it is sure to benefit you. Get a bottle from your druggist.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Rushville "Daily Republican."

has to say about cream separators this week

YOU will find the De Laval is the easiest and most satisfactory to use and keep in good running order. There is nothing about the operation, cleaning, adjustment or care of a modern De Laval which requires expert knowledge or special tools.

Only tool required

There are no parts which require frequent adjustment in order to keep the machine running smoothly or to conform to varying conditions in the every day use of a cream separator.

There is nothing about this machine that cannot be taken apart, removed or replaced by any one who can use a wrench or screw driver. In fact, the only tool which is needed for the operation of a De Laval Cream Separator is the combination wrench and screw driver illustrated above, furnished free with the machine.

We will be glad to have you examine a De Laval and see for yourself the simplicity and convenience of its construction.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

House Insurance For Business Men

This is the day of Insurance — Insurance against Death, Accident, Sickness, Fire and Decay transfers hazard into security. A few gallons of Sherwin Williams Paint if used according to directions insures your house for years against the hazard of wind, rain, sleet and decay. SHERWIN WILLIAMS PAINT is the old time insurance policy of 90 per cent of the world's greatest railroads and corporations. Specify and demand it because of the low eventual cost is their criterion of value and their cheapest insurance. Just two things to look for—the color and name of manufacturer, as you can't possibly see the absolute quality and service that is built in the can.

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podophyllin, they call it) daily. Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santal Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it. These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers. They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue. They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santal Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

Fleeing Families With Homes Destroyed Shown In War Films

Reproductions of German and Austria-Hungarian activities in Russian Poland will be shown at the Princess theater under the supervision of the Daily Republican Tuesday, April 11. Eight and one-half reels of film with hundreds of miles of scenery taken in the devastated country swept by the Teutonic forces in their recent assault against the Russians. They tell a story of suffering among aged men, women and children forced to flee during the siege of their town, and returning to find their homes ruined either by shell, fire or the torch applied by the retreating forces.

"On the Firing Line with the Germans" or a more appropriate title might be, "The Adventures of a Press Photographer in War Ridden Europe," for in fully 50 percent of the film Wilbur H. Durborough, one of many photographers from this country who figures in the pictures, is shown conducting a somewhat personal tour over the ground from the time he leaves for the battlefield until after the fall of Warsaw.

With him the spectator visits the soldier's camps, stand alongside the Kaiser, the Crown Prince and Princess, when he commands some officer for bravery, examine the different types of guns, from the rapid fire to the heavy motors, view the surrounding country from an observation balloon, visit the wounded in the hospitals, bury the dead in the battlefields, watch the convalescing soldiers go through a course of gymnastics under the instruction of a scientist, see them return to the front to fill the gaps made by other wounded and dead and inspect the ruined forts and bridges.

Accompanied by an Austrian German or Hungarian officer newly acquired territory, and a tour is made through the evacuated Russian trenches and underground strongholds that resemble hunting lodges rather than places of safety from flying bombs.

The German engineers construct a pontoon bridge in full view of the spectators and later stretch telephone and telegraph lines of communication between stations on the field of battle.

To the accompaniment of martial strains from the orchestra, charges on the battlefield are shown, these pictures are not poses, but actual realistic, awe inspiring occurrences and possibly the saddest of all is the exodus of refugees from their homes on foot or in carts with as many of their belongings as they can carry—cattle, horses, pigs, geese and dogs precede or follow their owners to places of safety.

Prominent Germans obligingly pose for the American newspaper man and many well known Americans also smile through the films and send their greetings to their friends. Notable among these are Miss Jane Addams, who was then on her famous peace mission and James W. Gerard, United States ambassador to Germany. The kaiser, and kaiserin, their daughter and three sons, including the crown prince emerge from the palace just as the camera man appears on the scene, and before they enter their conveyance he had their likeness on the film. From this peaceful and beautiful city Durborough motored to the hotbed of the strife, armed with necessary credentials and with American pluck and perseverance. Along the way he snaps Russian prisoners at work on the roads, piling up hay and engaged in other employment under the supervision of their German captors. They seem contented.

Photographically these pictures would be a credit to more efficient "movie" photographers than Mr. Durborough. There is a lack of grayness throughout the 8,500 feet of film. Sharp black and white lines reflect the objects clearly and there isn't the usual flicker evident in most pictures taken by the average photographer at the front. Remarkable results were obtained by the camera man when he focussed his machine to take the smoke made by the bursting shells in midair and the Zeppelins as they sailed majestically over the city of Warsaw. The power of the lens manifests itself in the distant scenes, picturing the advances of the German soldiers upon the Polish capital.

SAYS DAUGHTER GAVE HIM WHISKEY

Aged Man Claims he Was Influenced to Sign Deed to Property—Now in Hospital.

SUES TO HAVE IT CANCELLED

(By United Press.) Newcastle, Ind., April 6.—Elijah Pressnall, aged and infirm, is suing his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Keesling, alleging that she gave him whiskey and by misrepresentation persuaded him not to sign over to her a deed to property valued at $1,600. The old man asks that the deed be cancelled.

The complaint asserts that Mrs. Keesling sought to have her father committed to an insane hospital. Pressnall asserts that he thought when he signed the paper he was giving the property to his daughter in trust that would care for his old age.

The old man is in a hospital and cannot be moved.

MATCH PRICES SOARING.

(By United Press.) St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—Rubbing sticks again may become the world's way of making fire. The price of matches is soaring. Soon boxes selling for a penny may be bringing ten cents. This was the declaration today of T. B. Tucker, match manufacturer of Chicago, who says that of the 37 chemicals used in making matches, the majority are imported from foreign countries, now at war; and cannot be gotten.

SOME SOAP.

New York, April 6.—"I want a cake of the best toilet soap you have," a shopper in one of the big New York department stores said to a saleswoman the other day; "how much is it, please?" "Two dollars and ninety cents," was the staggering reply as the clerk brought forth from a case a small, daintily wrapped package; "and you're lucky to get this, for we're not getting any more of them now." It was a French soap, and the high price, it was said, was due to the exquisite perfume used in its manufacture.

CANADIANS ARE ATTENDING

Special Feature is The Rock Garden

—New Chinese Lilies Attract
Attention

(By United Press.)

New York, April 6.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught and their daughter, Princess Patricia, (Princess Pat), are to attend the opening of the International Flower Show at Grand Central Palace here today, as patrons of the Canadian Red Cross Tea Garden, a feature of the big show.

New York society is much interested in the coming of the Canadian nobles, who will remain here several days before going west on an extended visit to several midwestern and western cities of the United States.

Today's entertainment for The Governor General of Canada, the Duchess and Princess Pat, whose regiment in the Canadian expeditionary force in Europe has so distinguished itself, is under the direction of Miss Margaret Cameron, official representative of the Canadian Red Cross in the United States.

Canada is taking an important part in the flower show and also has a delegation of 50 charming Canadian hospital lassies serving in the tea garden, which is one of the prettiest and most elaborate features of the show.

A committee of Canadians will assist Miss Cameron, who is a sister of Mrs. Belmont Tiffany. Mrs. Tiffany and Mrs. William Kinnicutt Draper are assuming active management of the tea garden. The Canadian committee will include Mrs. William Dodson, Mrs. Dr. Charles H. Peck and Miss Hay.

The big International Flower show in the Palace from April 5 to 12, inclusive will be the greatest show that this country or probably the world has even known.

American florists will show many new creations, and there is a constantly increasing interest among amateurs. The far East will make contributions, while Australia and South Africa and different South American countries will be among the exhibitors.

A special new feature of this show will be the rock garden exhibits. This style of garden is comparatively new in America, but is beginning to excite considerable interest. The idea may be carried out in many ways, in all of which rocks, stones, flagging, posts, mossy banks, creviced walls, and rugged settings predominate. Such a garden properly planned and planted with many varieties of plants adapted to it is a delight, and after about

YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It
Brings Back Its Beautiful
Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

two years has the appearance of age so much sought in our newly laid out grounds.

The new Chinese lilies which have excited so much attention among professional horticulturists, in the last year or two will, it is expected, be on exhibition, with many other new Chinese plants and shrubs found to be handy in this climate. The Farquhars of Boston will exhibit these, which are the result of long and arduous trips through the unexplored regions of Western China made by the celebrated botanist and naturalist, E. H. Wilson.

The lilies, in appearance like Easter lilies, have been found to do splendidly in the Middle Atlantic States, putting forth their magnificent blooms in Summer for years after the first planting, with little or no attention.

The acacias, chiefly from Australia, will be seen at the show in their best flowering condition. The delicate yellow flower balls, or tassels, are in many of the varieties, delightfully fragrant.

South Africa will be represented by several varieties of amaryllis with flowers of gorgeous hues.

The rose garden of which it is expected there will be five or six, each covering 500 square feet of space and embodying most original ideas in the way of arrangement and inclusion of accessories, will form, perhaps, the prime feature of the show. Everybody loves roses, and the strong competition for the chief prize, $500 in cash, will insure a great treat for the visitors. The display of climbing roses will be very large, as also will be those of teas, hybrid teas, and perpetual roses, suitable for outdoor gardens. Among the cut roses will be found specimen blooms of new varieties which until now have been seen only by a favored few. Some of these are of American origin, and demonstrate that our own hybridizers are doing in the rose world.

HUNDRED LEAD-
ING HOOSIERS

Graham Newall Fitch 1810-1892.

Dr. Graham N. Fitch, one of the greatest surgeons of his time, was born in Genesee County, N. Y., 1810. He began the study of medicine with his father, but removed to Logansport, opened an office of his own and was early recognized as the most skillful practitioner in Northern Indiana. His wide acquaintance caused his friends to force him into politics, and he was in the legislature from 1836 to 1839. During the latter session, he was chairman of the committee on education. In 1844 he became professor in Rush Medical College, Chicago, where he served for three years. Returning in political life he was elected to congress and in 1856 entered the United States senate and served until 1861. At the outbreak of the war he raised a regiment (46th Indiana volunteers) and served with credit in the campaign of the Mississippi valley. After the war he returned to his practice in Logansport and died there in 1892.

Get the Habit of
Drinking Hot Water
Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right
with the system full
of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments. People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.
